Clerk to push for new system

Punched card voting on horizon

If Clerk Leonard J. Folmar is successful, Romulus residents could be casting their votes on a new punched card system at the primary election next fall.

Folmar was scheduled to appear Tuesday (yesterday) before Romulus City Council to request a special meeting to consider purchase of such a system for the city's 20 precincts.

He estimated a punched card voting system would cost Romulus $60,000 to $70,000 and take about three months to install once equipment arrived.

"If the council approves the letting of bids for a punched card voting system, it could be in operation for the fall primary election," he explained.

The clerk pointed out that the punched card system is now used to record absentee ballots in the city of Detroit and is used exclusively in Northville Township and the cities of Wayne, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Ann Arbor.

"Most other cities and townships in Western Wayne County soon will have punched card voting systems," he said.

Folmar noted that the state is currently considering legislation to put voting on one state-wide system.

"Since punched card voting has become so popular, that undoubtedly will be the system chosen by the state for its state-wide plan," he explained.

The clerk predicted that rising costs will prompt swift passage of state legislation for such a common voting system for the entire state of Michigan.

"It's cheaper for us to buy a punched card voting system now than to wait for the cost to go up and buy one later. Five years ago, the city could have bought this same system for about $36,000," he said.

Folmar said he was "optimistic" about the chances for an okay from council for purchase of the punched card voting system.

"The city council has demonstrated over the last year its willingness to take steps to improve the services it renders to the residents of the community.

Favorable action on their part will place Romulus in the forefront of Western Wayne County suburbs in the area of election registration, gathering and reporting," the clerk said.

Patrolman Richard J. Koch succumbs to illness at 43 though he knew he had a terminal illness.

Gerald Hammermeister, Paul Benyo and Bob McGraw.

He was buried with dignity and solemnity — a fitting tribute to the Wayne County patrolman who had served his community well.

A large number of people attended the funeral of Richard J. Koch on Jan. 25 at Baum Funeral Home in Romulus. Six Lieutenants of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department served as pallbearers for their fellow officer who died after a lengthy illness at the age of 43.

"He was as dedicated a police officer as you would ever hope to see," said a County Sheriff spokesman.

"He wasn't just your average policeman, he was very concerned about helping people and lived up to the highest calling of his profession."

Services were held at Baum Funeral Home and St. Aloysius Church in Romulus. The Rev. Fr. John Buehner officiated and entombment was at Michigan Memorial Park.

A graduate of McKenzie High School in Detroit, Mr. Koch later was in the Naval Reserve. He started with the Wayne County Sheriff Department on Feb. 1, 1960 as a skin diver with the Marine Division.

He became a Sergeant in 1972 and was transferred to the Metro Narcotic Bureau in 1974. He was promoted to the rank of Lt. in 1976 and graduated in 1978 from Madonna College with a degree in Criminal Justice.

Officials praised his determination for pursuing and obtaining his degree in Criminal Justice even

Mr. Koch, who lived in Canton, is survived by his wife, Betty Marie; children, Elizabeth, Leslie and Kelley; brother, Frank of Romulus; and father and mother, Jacob and Eileen Koch of Romulus.

He and his family are members of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Mr. Koch came by his interest in law enforcement through the influence of his father, Jacob. "Jake", as he was known to a host of people in Romulus, was Chief of Police here for many years before Wayne County was contracted to perform its law enforcement.

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas was present at the funeral service. The six pallbearers, all Lieutenants, were Thomas Harrett, Lewis Bryant, Leon McConnell,

2 SEMTA buses to serve area soon

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) will begin bus service in March or early April for senior citizens and handicapped persons in the cities of Belleville and Romulus and the townships of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron. Wayne County Commissioner William Joyner, who represents the Belleville-Van Buren-Romulus area, said he was notified of the bus service by Larry Salci, general manager of SEMTA.

Salci's notification came after Joyner said he wrote him last month to inquire about status of the scheduled SEMTA bus service for the area.

Joyner said Salci said two buses would begin the new service and would probably expand to four buses in late 1979. The 14-passenger buses will be equipped with wheelchair lifts to facilitate loading of handicapped persons, Salci told Joyner.

New lighting on Wayne Rd.

Mercury vapor streetlights will be installed in the near future on Wayne Road between Goddard and Bibbins roads, primarily to illuminate the entrances to the Romulus Civic Center complex.

Romulus City Council recently approved the recommendation of Dave Krause, city assessor, who made a study at the request of Mayor William M. Oakley.

Under the approved plan, cost of the lighting project will be paid by the city of Romulus. Krause had recommended that since the purpose of the new lights was to brighten up the entrances to the Civic Center complex at night, the city should pick up the tab.

Of four possible types of lights offered by Detroit Edison Co., council settled on 400-watt mercury vapor lights with metal poles and underground wires, with the distance between each pole to be 180 feet.

The total monthly cost of $225.50 to light the lamps was the third cheapest of the four proposals sent by Edison.

Windclift starts watch

The publicity generated by the successful Hale Creek Neighborhood Watch program, started last year with the help of the mayor's office and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, has spawned a second such group.

The Windclift subdivision, located east of Wayne Road, between I-94 and Wick Road, has started a similar program.

An essential first meeting to organize residents of the area will be held at the Cory School, 35200 Smith Road at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 20.

The meeting is hosted by the local PTA and will feature Wayne County Sheriff investigator Jerry Billiter who will explain the program via films, free literature and a question-and-answer session. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. All Windclift residents are urged to attend.

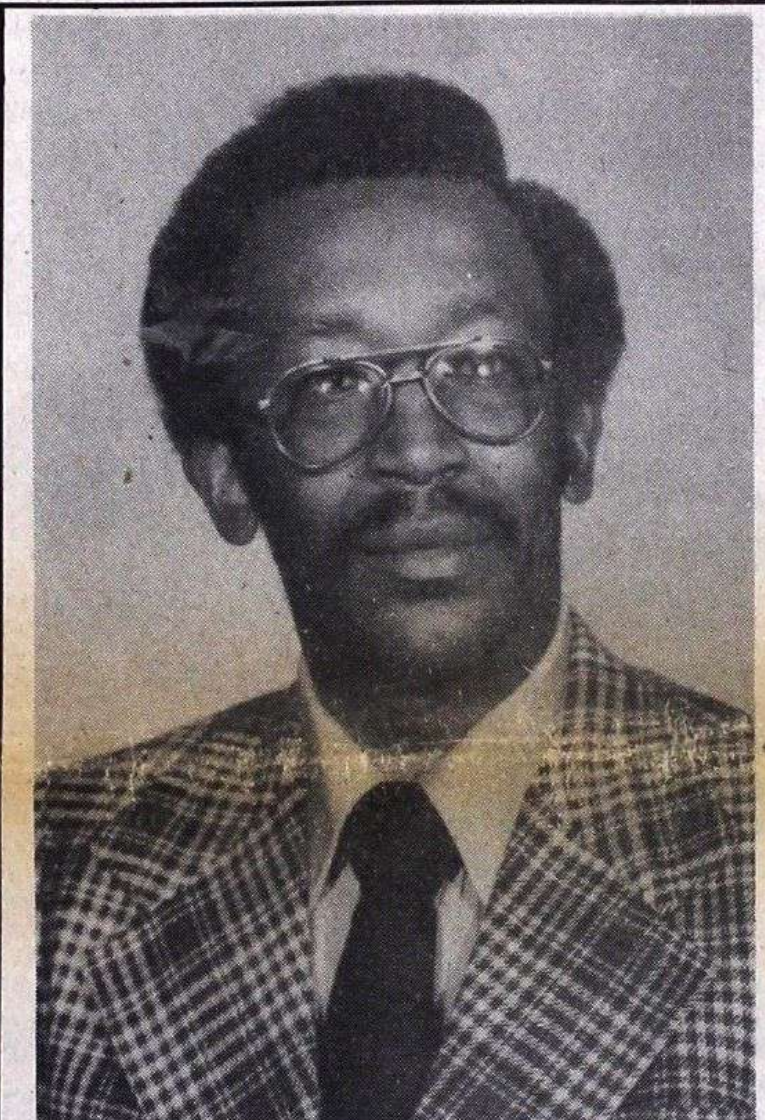

Hard work, education stressed

Black History Week marked with observance on Sunday

Hard work to achieve individual advancement and the need for education were stressed by a black Detroit City Council member Sunday during an address honoring the local observance of Black History Week by Romulus residents.

A standing-room only crowd jammed council chambers at city hall to hear Clyde Cleveland, the keynote speaker Sunday afternoon. In noting the accomplishments of blacks over the last few years, he also put emphasis on perseverance and consideration for others.

Cleveland said blacks must continue to work hard if they are to gain desired goals and objectives.

CLERK LEONARD J. FOLMAR

Huron seeks super, names new trustee

The Huron school board last week began a search for a new full-time superintendent and named a local constable to fill a vacant trustee position.

Acting Supt. Don Leverenz said the board set a deadline of March 15 to applications for the full-time position of superintendent.

Leverenz is filling in on an interim basis under a contract between the Huron school district and the Wayne County Intermediate School District, with which he is permanently employed. He was named to the acting position after Supt. Byron Antcliff resigned following the working out of an "amicable" agreement between himself and the board.

Antcliff, who had served as chief of the Huron Public Schools for the last 11 years, and the board reportedly had not seen eye to eye on many issues for some time. Under the agreement with the board, Antcliff will be on leave of absence from his tenure as an elementary school teacher until September of 1980.

At that time, he will have the option of returning to the elementary classroom as a teacher.

The board also last week named William Manny, a local constable, to sit on the school board to replace Keith McMann, who resigned recently for personal business reasons. Manny will serve until June of 1980, Leverenz said.

tribute to Hazel Harrison, the first black ever elected to public office in Romulus. She was a justice of the peace.

Also present at the two-hour observance was council member Beverly McAnally.

Local churches whose choirs participated in the program included: First Baptist Church, Community Baptist Church, House of God and St. City Church of God and Christ.

Folmar said the committee which sponsored the Sunday meeting to mark Black History Week wished to publicly thank all of the local merchants who helped financially in the endeavor.

After 14 years of service

Reichard resigns post on W-W school board

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

Robert F. Reichard resigned from the Wayne-Westland Board of Education last week after spending 14 years as an elected member of that board.

Although his term would have expired in June, Reichard chose to resign so that he could immediately move to his new home in Arizona. Reichard explained that his wife, Audrey, has been in poor health, and that the climate in the southwest had helped that condition. She has already moved to Arizona.

A few weeks ago, The Eagle had published a story telling of Reichard's own poor attendance record of the past year, during which he missed nearly a third of all meetings. Before appearing at the board meeting last week, Reichard had missed eight of the past nine meetings, absent from all but one session since last October.

The Eagle has been investigating rumors that Reichard had moved out of the district. His name was absent from the telephone directory. The address and phone number given out as his by the board office differed from the address on his voting records with the City of Westland.

Reichard apparently has been travelling back and forth between Michigan and Arizona, staying with friends or relatives as he finished up his business here in preparation for the final move.

As he announced his resignation, he said that he wished The Eagle had "compared it (the poor attendance record of 1978) to my first 13 years on the board—and that was before we got paid."

Asked after the meeting why he had delayed so long in resigning, he said that he still had other personal matters to finish up in Michigan, so he remained on the board until the permanent move to the southwest. Reichard also said he first wanted to see if the climate in Arizona would indeed help his wife's breathing problems.

The crusty 57-year-old senior board member appeared a bit nervous and rather emotional as he announced his resignation and reminisced briefly about his years on the board.

"In 1964, I attended my first board meeting as a board member, and I was very nervous," he said. "Fifteen years later, this is my last board meeting. I will be leaving you."

He noted that he had seen good years and bad years, made friends, and some enemies, and said that the board has remained "pretty stable" during that time. True to his style of not mincing words, Reichard observed that "we've had some screwy people on the board," but they didn't last long. He added, "maybe some people thought I was screwy," but noted that he's been elected to the board five times.

He said the highlight of his entire time on the board happened last Pridecraft Workshop for the mentally retarded after him.

"That was one of the greatest days of my life, I'll never forget that day," he said with emotion.

He emphasized that he had made a lot of friends during his time on the board and in the community, and said "really, I'm not going to miss the job as much as the people."

Reichard completed his comments with a suggestion to the board on his replacement. After clearly labelling it his own opinion, he said: "If I was going to stay around (to appoint a replacement), 'I think Vince Pettipren should have his chance at the seat,' even if it's only until June."

Pettipren was ousted by his fellow board members last summer when the attorney general found Pettipren's job as board member and superintendent of Taylor Public Schools "incompatible." Since then, legislation was passed to allow that specific dual job situation.

Reichard explained that "I'm the one that made the motion to bounce Vince, so I thought I would make that statement."

The other board members and superintendent Tim Dyer immediately began speaking in turn, lauding Reichard for his contributions to the community. The resignation apparently came as no surprise to them, or to other district "insiders" who knew of Reichard's Arizona plans.

School officials praised him for his "impact on thousands of students who have benefitted by his contributions."

It was noted that Reichard's background as a Teamster brought to the board "invaluable expertise" in dealing with bargaining units in the district.

Strokes afflict everyone

Strokes often are equated with old age, but people of all ages can be affected by a stroke.

A stroke is preceded by blurred vision, slurred speech and numbness in the arms. A stroke can leave you afraid and lonely.

Many victims and their families don't know how to cope with these unexpected emotions.

Through its money and programming efforts, the Michigan Heart Association tries to become a "Stroke Resource" to the community. It is interested in educating the public on the problems of this disease and helping stroke victims and their families, understand what has happened and how to deal with it.

The Stroke Committee of the Southern Wayne Heart Unit, actively promotes several stroke programs. They are involved in the Downriver Stroke Club, inservice visitation programs and public education. Recently they have formed a panel of professional people, to discuss all phases of stroke within southern Wayne County.

The stroke panel of southern Wayne, is prepared to present factual and helpful information to any interested group on the subject of stroke. The topics covered include what has happened to the body, community resources, what to expect and financial assistance.

All interested organizations can request the panel presentation by calling the Michigan Heart Association at 557-9500, ext. 39.

ARE YOU AWARE

As a Believer, the word of God is just as important to you as bread. (NIV)

MATTHEW 4:4—Jesus answered, "It is written, man does not live by Bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God" (Deuteronomy 8:3)
DEUTERONOMY 5:29—Oh that their hearts would be inclined to fear me and keep all my commands always, so that it might go well with them and their children forever!
PROVERBS 2:1—My Son, if you accept my words and store up my commands within you,
2:2—Turning your ear to wisdom and applying your heart to understanding,
2:3—And if you call out for insight and cry aloud for understanding,
2:4—And if you look for it as for silver and search for it as for hidden treasure,
2:5—Then you will understand the fear of the Lord and find knowledge of God.
2:6—For the Lord gives wisdom, and from his mouth come knowledge and understanding.
2:7—He holds victory in store for the upright.

"Please read the second, third and fourth chapters of Proverbs. Such instructions should not go ignored; if they do, then we do not have the promise of victory in our problems of life."

Dear friend, study of God's word will equip you for ready combat with crises that may arise in your life as well as day to day problems. We urge you to get into the practice of studying God's word. Don't wait until you have time, or get more organized, that just won't happen. (Just do it.)

19 Units to participate

Area Boy Scouts will mark 69th anniversary this week

A total of 19 Boy Scout units in Van Buren Township and Romulus will join in the nation-wide celebration of the organization's 69th anniversary which began Sunday and ends Saturday.

Preparing for the annual festivities from the Van Buren area over the last few weeks are: Pack 231 - Savage Road School; Pack & Troop 702 - Tyler Road School; Pack 7 Troop 754 - Quirk Road School PTA; Pack & Troop 793 - St. Anthony's Catholic Church; Pack 821 - Haggerty School PTO; Pack 882 - Holiday West Trailer Park; Pack 8 Troop 924 - Elwell School PTO; Pack & Troop 997 - Rawsonville Woods Trailer Park; Pack & Troop 1071 - First United Methodist Church of Belleville; and Troop 231 - Trinity Episcopal Church.

Also getting ready for the celebration from the Romulus area are: Pack 734 - Beverly School; Pack & Troop 735 - Cory School; Pack 736 - St. Aloysius Catholic Church; Pack & Troop 739 - Merriman School PTA; Pack 808 - Mt. Pleasant School PTA; Pack 823 - Gordonier School PTA; Pack 830 - Hayti School PTA; Pack 850 - Wick School PTA; and Pack & Troop 1739 - VFW Post 9568.

Among the activities to be conducted by the Scouting units are Cub Scout 'blue and gold' (the official Cub Scout colors) dinners, Scout troop Parents' Nights and Courts of Honor for the presentation of advancement awards.

The Boy Scouts of America was chartered by the Congress of the United States of America in 1910 to provide the Scouting program to an ever increasing number of youth in America. Scouting today offers nearly five million youth nationally a program of fun and adventure, while building character, and teaching citizenship, personal fitness, and leadership skills.

The Detroit Area Council is currently seeking additional organizations to serve area youth through the use of the three Scouting programs: Cub Scouts for boys ages 8 to 10, Scouting for boys age 11-18, and Exploring for co-ed groups age 14 to 21.

The most recent trend in the Boy Scouts America is the use of the Exploring program by professional associations and corporations. The Explorer program offers high school youth a chance to explore career opportunities and to find their present and future roles as individuals in society under the guidance of business and other institutions.

Examples of posts currently operating in metropolitan Detroit are law enforcement posts in conjunction with area police departments medical posts with local hospitals, engineering posts with General Motors and Burroughs Corporation, advertising with D'Arcy-Mac Manus and broadcasting with WXYZ-TV.

A distinctive feature of the Boy Scouts in America is that it works with youth through existing community organizations. The success of Scouting can be credited directly to local organizations which currently provide leadership, meeting places and other resources to Scouting in the community in partnership with the Detroit Area

Council, Boy Scouts of America. Further information on Scouting can be obtained from the Detroit Area council at 897-1965.

Students show art at city hall

A trip to Romulus City Hall this month will be a visually rewarding one thanks to an exhibit of art work produced by members of Mrs. Beverly Kellogg's Romulus High School art classes. The art pieces, displayed in the enclosed trophy case at the entrance to the city council chambers, represents the artistic expression of some 25 art students in grades 10 through 12. The work covers a variety of media, including watercolor scenes, ceramic animals and glazed pottery, pen and ink drawings and oil renderings. The idea of inviting Romulus school students to display their work in the busy city hall corridor originated with the city-school committee recently, and the response from both schools and spectators alike, has been very good, according to Jay Young, public information officer for the city. In March, high school photography students will display their work, followed by art classes from North Junior High School and several elementary schools running through the end of the school year, according to Young. Shown (left to right) are Peggy Davidson, 10th grade, Tim Kudla, 10th grade, Delores Brown, 12th grade; and Lisa Green, 12th grade.

decorativeness. Although prices have not been set, each quilt is expected to carry a price tag of approximately $100. Quilting originated in England and was brought to America with the pilgrims in 1620. The art was passed from mother to daughter, and is being taught at the Drop-In Center by Mrs. Florence Hadyniak, who learned from her mother. Several quilts are presently underway, with a goal of six to be completed by the July bazaar. Any senior citizen interested in joining a free class should call 941-0666, extension 67 for details. Seniors unaware of some services

By CARRIE YOUNG

His vision, however, is totally distorted and impaired when he dutifully slips on his prescription eyeglasses.

Rows of various sized jugs are scattered around his favorite, but tattered, chair — for that matter throughout his entire 15 x 20 sq. ft. poorly insulated shanty.

Filled with water the jugs are carted in on a regular basis from a water pump at a barn across the roadway, his only source of water since he built the tiny structure in Sumpter Township in 1952.

The 84-year-old World War II disabled veteran relies on Wayne County's free-of-charge home-delivered hot meals program for homebound senior citizens each and every day.

But if the ailing senior doesn't arrange for his snow-piled driveway to be plowed, he may be without the county service.

"You know anybody who can give me snow shoveling?" queried Lancaster.

Being confined to his home with his dog and a television set as his only form of companionship, Lancaster was not aware that under a similar senior citizen service free home-chore services are offered.

Abiding by the belief that the other-guy is always more in need of aid, Lancaster simply remarks "I'll pay for it myself."

"I ain't so crazy about the meals anyway," he emphasized, "Heck, I don't need anything from them that they're going to cry about giving me."

Lancaster is one of many hundreds of Western Wayne County seniors who may be in need of home chore and repair servicing currently offered through state and federally funded programs.

The catch-22, as in most existing grant programs offered, is that seniors must request any and all services they desire.

"Problem is that most seniors have an attitude that 'I don't want to trouble anyone...' so we have the obligation to reach out to them and let them know they're not bothering us," lamented William Joyner, who visited homebound seniors' homes with Associated Newspapers last week.

Joyner, a Western Wayne County Commissioner representing nine communities, reasoned, "Here we have a case, we're finding not at all uncommon, where one agency doesn't coordinate with the other..."

"They don't make seniors aware of all the services available to them, and so in Lancaster's instance he may lose one service he desperately needs because he didn't know about another service."

Under a federally funded Title-3 Home Chore and Service grant Wayne County was awarded $1.6 million of which Detroit received $1.1 million and out-county communities shared in the remaining half million dollars.

When Sumpter Township, one of the poorest communities in Wayne County, applied for a portion of that grant, officials were denied their request.

Instead Sumpter procured a $33,831 chunk from the grant with four other communities participating — Romulus, (locally administering the grant) Huron and Van Buren townships and Belleville.

Romulus city officials could not give Associated Newspapers a breakdown on how much of the program monies are devoted to administration and salary costs.

Each township and city official involved is required to oversee the goings-on of their individual community, but are not required by the grant contract to visit the homes, or make certain senior citizens are aware of the program offerings.

In Sumpter, township manager Henry Redman is the party responsible for monitoring the program activities.

Redman says he has periodically met with the Romulus director of the project, Al Shelley and "we discuss things." But he doesn't visit the homes.

Shelley said that he makes certain "the right hand knows what the left hand is doing," but admitted to never meeting with other community officials since the program's inception in October.

He also noted that he does not actually have knowledge of how or what community officials are doing to make the program work.

On such programs, 15 percent is permitted for administration costs, according to state officials.

Both Shelley and Redman said Sumpter has been considered a high priority area where more emphasis is being placed because of the large incidence of low-income families.

In Romulus there are 57 families and 79 individuals who've received chore and service attention.

Less than half that amount are serviced in Sumpter where 24 families and 32 individuals have been assisted.

"I'm aware our services are not equally distributed, but we do have a short waiting list," said Shelley.

But Joyner argues that the short waiting list is a poor indicator, if at all, that the program is operating successfully.

"It's a flop. It's just another example of lack of coordinating efforts," he said.

Says Detroit favored

Joyner charges area seniors slighted

As long as the rules tilt in favor of Detroit area communities, the program emphasis on senior citizen services will also lean toward Detroit interests.

Wanting to shift the emphasis from Detroit to Western Wayne County, William Joyner is proposing two rule changes.

Joyner, a Western Wayne County commissioner, is drafting a resolution to be submitted to out-county communities calling for a change in current funding policy.

"I want to change the 70-30 split (70-percent of county funds allocated to Detroit, and 30-percent directed to out-county communities) to a more fair and equitable 50-50 percent split so that out-county can get a fair shake," said Joyner.

The second prong to his proposed resolution is to rule out the cities of Hamtramck and Highland Park as out-county communities to preclude the two cities bounded by Detroit from receiving any future out-county funding for senior needs.

"They're bounded by Detroit, and I say why should they be allowed to get out-county money that should and could be going to deserving seniors in Western Wayne County," said Joyner.

Speaking in terms of unabashed can-do optimism Joyner predicted that if his resolution is approved and supported by out-county municipalities, it could appear before the county board of commissioners at their next regular board session.

"I have high hopes that people will want to be more fair," said Joyner.

According to an intergovernmental agreement made in 1974 by the state's Governor, the mayor of Detroit and the chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, 70 percent of the county's funding for senior services is channeled into Detroit and the remaining 30-percent to out-county communities.

The agreement was based on the 1970 federal population census.

Also adhered to policy is that Hamtramck and Highland Park, even though bounded by Detroit city limits, are considered out-county communities.

Joyner's concern is that because of the senior migration from Detroit to out-county suburbs in the past five years that the 70-30 percent funding split is no longer accurate or fair to out-county areas.

"I'm also concerned that of the 30-percent we're supposed to be getting, Highland Park and Hamtramck are getting it because of their large population," Joyner said. "It's just not fair, and after the inequity is pointed out to Detroit commissioners, I'm sure they'll want to rectify it... in the best interest of Wayne County seniors as a whole."

Community officials contacted by Associated Newspapers all wholeheartedly endorsed Joyner's efforts. Some have even pledged to introduce the proposed rule-change resolution at their next official board session for adoption.

From there Joyner hopes to take the issue to the full county board of commissioners.

In Canton, Noel Culbert, who has taken a critical interest as of late in senior distribution of services is gathering material for what may be a future request for a one-man grand jury investigation into the county office of aging. Culbert said he would support Joyner's resolution.

Westland City Councilman Charles (Trav) Griffin said he too is in support of the proposed rule change.

"I definitely think that the population shift to out-county has changed to at least 60-40 percent... and if we really get down to it it's more like 50-50 percent," said Griffin.

Griffin said by the time the 1980 federal population census is conducted there will probably be more seniors in out-county than in Detroit.

"I think that's what they fear most, and are trying to avoid... that one day we will be in the majority," said Griffin.

Doreen Craven, Van Buren Township Clerk, said that it has only been her community's perception that the term out-county, practically speaking means "left out."

She said she'd introduce the resolution as soon as it's presented to her.

But Dante Divitto, director of the county office of aging department, said it was "presumptuous" of Joyner and others to lump Hamtramck and Highland Park in with Detroit.

"They are not Detroit cities, and I think Joyner might ask them (Hamtramck and Highland Park officials) how they feel about his resolution," said Divitto.

Both Divitto and Lawrence Gareau, public information coordinator for the board of commissioners, said it might take a rescindment of the original 1974 intergovernmental agreement which first set the policy to effect a rule change.

If so, it is not until early this summer that the intergovernmental agreement receives its annual update by the three units of government.

Joyner's proposed rule change, if not passed, would leave it up to the next population census to effect any change in funding distribution policy. And that census will not be effective until sometime in 1982, according to county officials.

The airman, a 1971 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations while at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Airman Wood now will receive specialized training in vehicle maintenance field.

Also in the armed forces: Airman Peter W. Colon, the son of U.S. Army Lt. Col. and Mrs. Albert R. Colon Jr. of Fairfax, Va., has received a new assignment following graduation from the avionics systems equipment specialist course conducted by the Air Training Command at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

Airman Colon, trained to perform maintenance on integrated airborne equipment, will go to Beale Air Force Base, Calif., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The airman's wife, Carol, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Fischer of Dru Avenue, Romulus.

Richard A. Cooper Sr., resides in Newport, Mich.

Consumer hotline answers questions and gives advice

Consumers now are able to pick up the telephone and, at no charge, get answers to questions and advice for problems from the Michigan Consumers Council Guideline.

Agnes Bryant, the council's chairperson, said: "The Consumers Council is delighted to have the Guideline in operation. It means an additional avenue of help for consumers who have questions of problems."

"The toll-free system means our information service is now readily available to virtually every consumer in Michigan," said the council's executive director, Linda Joy. "While we always have provided information from our large clearinghouse, the greater volume of our calls has come from Lansing. Our resources now will be accessible to consumers whether they live in Niles, Detroit or Sault Ste. Marie."

Joy explained that one of the functions of the Guideline is to help guide consumers through their complaints with businesses.

"We've found that consumers often can resolve their own complaints without the intervention of state and federal agencies, if the necessary counseling and information is available," she said.

"The Guideline will provide this to consumers who have problems. If however, is apparent that mediation or enforcement is necessary, we'll put consumers in touch with the agency best able to handle the problem. We hope this service will be useful to both businesses and consumers."

The Consumers Council Guideline also will provide information to consumers who want to head off potential problems before they buy.

"Trained counselors will be able to provide information on a wide range of consumer issues," Joy said. "If we don't have ready access to the information, we know who does."

To keep costs down there are three different telephone numbers for the Guideline.

"The number which consumers should use depends on where they are calling from in Michigan," Joy said. "These three numbers will allow us to be as effective as possible with our toll-free service."

Consumers who live in the City of Detroit should dial 963-6806; Lansing-area residents should call 373-0947. Consumers in all other areas of the state may dial 1-800-292-5680. The lines are open Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Airman Richard A. Cooper Jr., the son of Mrs. Judith A. Rowlett of Delta, Romulus, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Cooper will now receive specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

The airman attended Airport High School in Carleton. His father, Any official at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., has announced the graduation of Airman William S. Wensko from the U.S. Air Force's computer operator course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Wensko, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wensko of Walnut Drive, Romulus, now is trained to operate and maintain electronic data processing machines, and will serve at Howard Air Force Base, Canal Zone.

The airman is a 1978 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Winter survival is program topic

A special program entitled "Winter Survival for People" will be presented at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Sunday at 10 a.m.

Although most people will never have to contend with the problems of winter survival, it is to our benefit to know what to do and what not to do if the occasion ever arises. Naturalist Bob Hotelling will conduct a 1½-hour program on the subject, part indoors and part outdoors. Among the aspects to be discussed are food, clothing, shelter, orientation and equipment.

Participants will meet at the nature center building and dress for the weather. Registration is required as are vehicle entry permits. For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

CORN Facts & Fancies

According to legend, cornmeal "hush puppies" were so named because they were fed to noisy dogs—to make them quiet down.

The pilgrims were the first colonists to taste popped popcorn—a gift from the Indians at the first Thanksgiving dinner.

To keep America's corn growing, American farmers get rid of weeds with atrazine herbicides. One, Aatrex 4L, is properly formulated so it doesn't settle out even if it's stored for three years.

In new legislative session

Mahalak re-appointed to appropriations panel

State Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-38th District) has been reappointed to the House Committee on Appropriations for the 1979-80 session of the State Legislature.

Appropriations is considered the top committee assignment in the House. Because of the responsibilities and workload involved, those members appointed to the committee traditionally receive no other standing committee assignments.

The House and Senate Appropriations Committees write the state budget and handle all bills involving the expenditure of state funds.

Mahalak's appointment to Appropriations was announced by House Speaker Bobby D. Crim who makes all House committee assignments.

"Rep. Mahalak did an outstanding job as a member of the House Appropriations Committee, and I felt that he should be appointed again," Crim said. "I felt that his experience, ability and capacity for hard work would continue to be an asset on the Appropriations Committee. I have every confidence in him."

Mahalak said he was pleased with the appointment, adding: "because of the state's economic problems and awesome responsibilities and the need to write a tight state budget and carefully watch over state spending, the work of the Appropriations Committee will be especially challenging this session of the legislature."

Mahalak has been assigned to the Committee on Highways and Transportation. Last session he was chairman of a sub-section dealing with Railroads and Transportation. This session he will chair the entire committee. Mahalak also was named as chairman of the Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. He also will serve on another all important committee — General Government and Retirement — and he is a member of the Government Computers Committee and State Police. Last session he served as chairman of the State Police Committee.

Mahalak represents the 38th House District which includes parts of the cities of Taylor and Wayne, Huron and Sumpter townships, the City of Romulus and much of Monroe County. He went into the legislature in 1965 after serving for 10 years as a Justice of the Peace. He recently was elected to his eighth consecutive term in the House.

Wishing well.

Savings Bonds: What we can do for the US

The birthday of our nation, July 4, is an occasion to think of the great bounty America has produced for its citizens. Americans have long enjoyed one of the highest standards of living in the world, a standard that is constantly rising. And we are fortunate to live in a country where individual liberties are both valued and protected.

With all that our nation has done for us, we should be more than willing to do things for it. One thing we can all do very easily is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Savings Bonds are the practical, patriotic way to save. They help our country by funding the debt in a relatively low-cost manner and by adding a measure of stability to debt management. Both of these help to hold down inflation, a goal we all know is important.

Of course, while they are helping America, Bonds are also helping you. Series E Bonds are easy to buy and save through the Payroll Savings Plan offered by some 40,000 companies. They grow at the rate of 6 percent per annum, when held to a 5-year maturity. They can be used to create a low- or no-tax fund for education or retirement. Bonds also are guaranteed by the United States against any loss.

Buying Bonds regularly can bring a larger degree of financial independence to yourself and your family. At the same time, the Bonds will be helping America protect its independence and integrity in the world. It is a fine and appropriate way to celebrate Independence Day.

Westland's first fire chief, Savini, hangs up 'his hook and ladder'

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

Ralph Savini was fighting fires around this town before some of today's fire fighting crew were even born, logging more than 28 years in fire service in Wayne-Westland.

Last Friday, Savini officially hung up his hook and ladder and retire as chief of Westland's Fire Department.

As the first, one and only fire chief in the city's 12-year history, and the first and only chief of the Nankin Fire Department formed prior to that in 1962, Savini has watched the department grow from 16 to 65 men, from one to four fire stations.

Savini is a native of West Virginia who came to Detroit in 1938 for a visit with relatives, and stayed. He worked at Ford Motor Company for a while, then when World War II broke out, he went to the plant in Ypsilanti where B-24 bombers were being built. There, he was put on the plant's fire department.

Savini was in the Air Force during World War II, serving for three years in emergency rescue operations in China, India, Burma and the Pacific.

It was only natural then that in 1950 he joined the Wayne-Nankin Fire Department. During his 12 years there, he attained the rank of sergeant. In 1962, when the Nankin Fire Department was formed, he tested for the job of chief and got it. He's been chief ever since, with only a name change when Westland became a city and his department became the Westland Fire Department.

It's been in the last 10 years or so that being chief has become strictly an administrative job. Prior to that, the chief still could go out on runs. But now, he's busy with administrative functions such as budgeting, handling personnel and union relations, coordinating the fire service with other city departments and supervising the operation of four stations.

These responsibilities cause Savini to say that the first reaction he expects to have to retirement will be the feeling of "a great weight lifted off my shoulders."

His immediate retirement plans are succinct. He'll spend the first few months "winding down."

The chief said he feels good about the "good, basic foundation" that has been built in the Westland department.

When Savini began his fire career, most of the job was putting out fires. Rescue work, which was minimal then, is the job that keeps the department the busiest now. Over the years, it has been important to keep up with innovations in fire fighting, he said.

Savini just can't say enough about what he calls the "greatest advance in fire protection in all the years I've been in the field" — the smoke detector.

Already such devices have saved untold numbers of lives and dollars, and as more are installed, the fire prevention will increase, he said. Westland's ordinance, requiring such devices in every Westland home, goes into effect March 1.

'The job gives immediate personal satisfaction ...'

Such devices signal the gradual change in emphasis of fire departments — from putting out fires to preventing them.

Savini said he has enjoyed his 28 years in fire service "a great deal." The job gives the firefighter a great deal of satisfaction, he said, the feeling that "he's really accomplishing something."

"The job gives immediate personal satisfaction because when it's over, you have the feeling of being a definite benefit to people."

He repeated the remark generally made by public safety employees that citizens are always glad to see firemen, arrive, but usually not as happy to see police officers. It's the nature of the job.

Recalling his years with the fire department, it is the fire deaths he remembers most vividly, and most regretfully. A fire back in 1970 at Waynewood Apartments, where four people were killed and a dozen units destroyed, is the one he recalls as the worst.

But while unable to forget each incident, he made note that Westland's average number of deaths due to fire is quite low for the population. He figures that in 16 years since he became chief, there have been 15 deaths. The average loss for a city of around 100,000 is four per year.

"In that respect, it's not quite as bad," he said. "Of course, one death is too many."

Chief Savini's involvement in Westland has not been limited to working hours. A resident for the past 15 years, he's been involved with the Westland Goodfellows, United Foundation, Norway Task Force, and other activities. In 1969 he was named as Westland's "Man of the Year" by the Westland Jaycees.

He and his wife Joanne have three children. Two daughters, Mary and Nancy, live in their own homes, while their son, Steve, still lives at the family home on Treadwell.

Savini's involvement in professional organizations and other groups for the advancement of fire service has been continuous through his career. He holds memberships in the Southeast Michigan Fire Chief's Association, Great Lakes Fire Chief Association, Michigan State Fire Chief's Association and International Association of Fire Chiefs, and has served on many committees with those groups.

Although as chief he is the only employee of the Fire Department not in the union, he was the first president of Local 1279, which represents the Westland fire fighters.

In 1965, Savini was one of five national winners of the Annual Raeford Scholarship Awards, given by the International Association of Fire Chiefs to members who have demonstrated proficiency in the advancement of the profession.

Savini served as president of the Western Wayne County Mutual Aid organization in 1967-68. As a member of the pact, the chief was the principal author of radio voice communication procedures and emergency vehicle numbering systems currently used by 18 area communities.

Under Chief Savini's direction, the Westland department developed and operated one of the first comprehensive emergency rescue services in the state.

Savini holds a Class A instructor certification with the Michigan Fire Training Council and has served as instructor at two state fire schools in West Virginia. He has served on the Washtenaw Community College advisory board for fire protection technology and currently serves in that same capacity with Madonna College.

A retirement party for the chief is planned for March 16 at the Wayne-Ford Civic League, in Westland. Details are incomplete.

What is the end of a distinguished career for this dedicated fire fighter might quite unintentionally contribute to the beginning of a new issue in Westland. There has been talk in recent months that the city plans to combine the police and fire departments into one department of safety, combining some of the functions under one administrative head.

Savini's retirement would leave the chief's job vacant — maybe permanently.

Savini acknowledges that this is a "highly flammable" issue; and can't resist laughing at his own pun. But seriously, in commenting on the feasibility of a department of public safety, he chooses his words carefully.

"If you've got enough people who want it to work, anything can work," Savini said. "I'm just not sure there are enough people around convinced it will work — policemen or firemen."

But as of Feb. 2, Savini doesn't have to worry about that. He'll be busy winding down.

License plate buyer to face long lines

Unless they act now, motorists who delayed purchasing 1979 license plates in hopes a citizen petition drive would roll back higher fees could find themselves waiting in long lines as the deadline nears.

A Michigan Court of Appeals hearing on a challenge to the petition drive was delayed until March 6, but that is too late for owners of trucks, trailers and commercial vehicles, who must display the new black and white plates by March 1 or be ticketed by police.

However, if the Appeals Court upholds a rollback of license plate fees, motorists who already have purchased plates are guaranteed refunds under legislation approved late last year.

The deadline for displaying 1979 plates on passenger cars and motorcycles is April 3.

Nearly 1.9 million motorists have purchased their plates, but some 4 million still must buy them.

To purchase plates, vehicle owners must present either the prepared renewal form mailed by the Department of State, the 1978 registration or the certificate of vehicle title plus proof of public liability and property damage insurance. The mail order passenger vehicles and motorcycles.

MAINTAIN YOUR HEALTH THRU CHIROPRACTIC

The healthy person revels in the great feeling of well-being brought about by a smooth-functioning body. Chiropractic maintenance care at regular intervals will help retain good health and often discover and correct minor problems long before they become identifiable major conditions.

Even as you see your dentist or optometrist at regular intervals, make plans to see your Doctor of Chiropractic for regular checkups and maintenance care.

Your doctor can tell you of many cases he has had when he has been able to discern a childhood or adolescent "accident" as ultimately leading to a major problem as the individual grew older. Through a program of regular visits to your Doctor of Chiropractic, it is possible to avoid needless discomfort which may arise in the future.

The doctor will examine you thoroughly, discuss your health situation with you, and give you chiropractic adjustments as indicated by his examination. He believes the chiropractic health maintenance program as being one of the finest services he can render.

Doctors of Chiropractic believe chiropractic maintenance health care should be a "family affair" from infancy to maturity and beyond. He knows, for example, the extreme trauma experienced at the time of birth by the new-comer into the world. The spine is frequently contorted in the birth process. Unless restored to proper position it can set the pattern for future poor health.

Later on, as normal spinal curves are developed when the baby learns to crawl, chiropractic care is important. Your chiropractor, as a specialist in the musculo-skeletal system, can quickly assess the child's progress.

The bumps and bruises of the first active years in pre-school and up through junior high school bring with them their own peculiar problems which call for the careful scrutiny of the chiropractor. Too often, seemingly innocent falls off a park swing have led to conditions which are painful and debilitating.

Throughout the adolescent years, as young men and women grow at a furious pace, it is good for the Doctor of Chiropractic to continue with the programs of checkups. Active participation in sports often is accompanied with more than the usual measure of harsh physical contact. Again, it is the ideal time for the watchful chiropractor to make his examination and proceed with spinal adjustments if they are necessary.

The stresses and strains of the early years past, young men and women pursue careers, marry and have families. It is a time of growing responsibility. Frequently if health care had been a part of the regimen of these couples, major physical problems could have been eliminated in the future. Often priorities are allocated toward building a career, buying a new car or home, or raising a family. Personal health is sacrificed by the two most important people, the husband and wife heading the family unit.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic believes in maintenance health care. Ask him for the details of his program. He will be pleased to spend some time with you regarding this extremely valuable and significant chiropractic service he has to offer. Schedule checkups as you do visits to the dentist or optometrist. Remember, because your Doctor of Chiropractic is a specialist in problems of the musculo-skeletal system, he knows the meaning of sound structural health which in turn enables the body to function normally as it was intended to do.

Good health is natural, you are entitled to it. Isn't it time you truly considered your health for the many tomorrows to come. Make an appointment with your family chiropractor now.

Local officials get 'introduced' to 'Headlee'

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

One official called it the "Headlee Headache". And while no aspirins were passed around recently at the Michigan Municipal League meeting in Inkster, plenty of local city officials were asking, "How do you spell relief?"

A record number of 160 MML members turned out for the meeting at Inkster Recreation Complex that discussed the ramifications of the recently passed Headlee Amendment.

The vast majority of those who attended the 26th annual region III meeting came away with more questions than answers.

Inkster Mayor Terrel LeCesne, who hosted the six-hour conference as Chairperson of Region III, said the large audience was an indication of the concern of city officials.

"City officials around the state are greatly concerned about the implications of the Headlee Amendment and how it will affect their communities," he said.

LeCesne said it was the largest turnout for a regional meeting ever, surpassing the number attending a similar meeting in Monroe two weeks earlier.

"We (the city) don't anticipate any immediate effects, but certainly down the road there will be problems. There are many questions that will have to be settled by the courts or legislature," LeCesne said.

The Inkster mayor's comments were echoed by large contingents of elected officials from surrounding cities in Wayne County. On hand at the meeting from the Associated Newspapers' circulation area were Mayor Paul Lada of Wayne, Mayor Thomas Taylor of Westland, Mayor Justin Emerson of Belleville and Mayor William M. Oakley of Romulus, who were accompanied by elected officials and some administrative staff members.

Pat Cullen, Wayne city manager, agreed with LeCesne's assessments of the Headlee Amendment.

"It was a very good and timely meeting," Cullen said. "It merely pointed out all the unanswered questions raised by the new Headlee Amendment. For instance, the new amendment is very vague. Is it possible for cities to increase land values? And when it speaks of tax millage levied, is it talking about present levies or the total possible number of mills a city can levy?"

Cullen said the conference enumerated all the problems cities are facing and "we need to get some answers in the next six to seven months."

Representing Wayne with Cullen and Mayor Lada at the meeting were Robert Lytle, finance officer, Wencil (Hank) Hendrick, assistant finance officer, and Nathan Weiser, councilman. Wayne Councilman Kurt Heidmann was not able to attend the afternoon workshops, but joined his colleagues for the dinner and closing evening session.

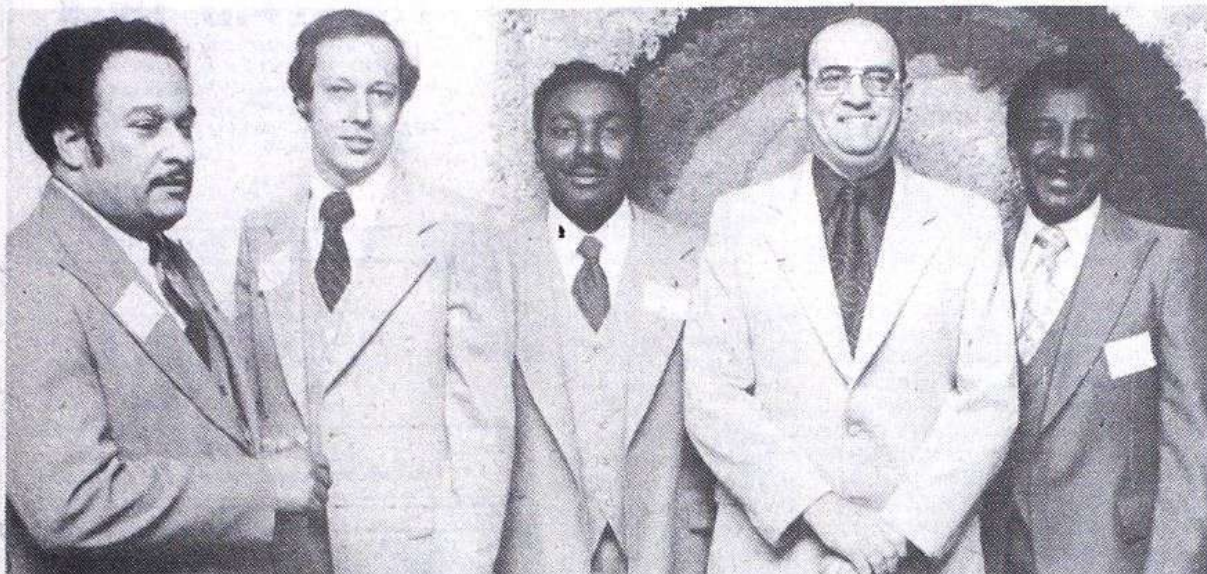

Westland Mayor Thomas Taylor chaired one workshop and called the meeting the best attended meeting of local public officials he's been to in years.

"It is the impact of the Headlee Amendment that is bringing city leaders to these meetings," he said. "From our standpoint, I feel we're looking at a possible three to five years of litigation in court to settle all the legal questions raised by the amendment."

Taylor emphasized that the City of Westland "was going to conform to what we feel is the intent of the Headlee Amendment."

Due to the vagueness of the wording of the Headlee Amendment on the November ballot, there are a lot specifics that need to be clarified. City officials feel these will probably all have to be settled by the legislature or in the courtroom.

In addition to LeCesne, Inkster was represented by Councilmen James Collieran, Joseph Davis, Patrick O'Neil and Willie Johnson; Wally Arrowsmith, interim city manager; Bruce Cook, treasurer; Jim Switala, city assessor; Jim Klobuchar, assistant controller, and Police Chief Hank Jason.

The perfect hosts

When Inkster hosted the Michigan Municipal League Region III meeting last Thursday, five of seven members of City Council were on hand to make the guests feel welcome. The record number of 160 MML members who turned out for the regional meeting were lavish in

Know your laws

Safeguarding your health

(This is one of a series of public service articles explaining, in general terms, a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law on their private legal affairs should consult with a private attorney.)

By ATT. GEN. FRANK KELLEY

People in Michigan repeatedly ask about the steps their state government is taking to safeguard the public health and protect the environment against toxic wastes.

Their concern about toxic wastes was stimulated last year by news stories about the evacuation of people in the Love Canal area in New York when toxic chemicals began seeping from the ground; the closing of a commercial fishery in Hopewell, VA., on Chesapeake Bay, because of Kepone contamination; and continued health warnings of contaminated fish in the Great Lakes.

To handle situations like these that may develop in Michigan — and to prevent them, if possible — the Michigan Legislature last year authorized the creation of the Toxic Substance Control Commission with substantial powers.

When acting in conjunction with the Governor, the commission has the authority to issue emergency orders to private companies as well as governmental agencies which may be reluctant to act. The commission will have the power to prohibit the distribution or use of toxic substances or to order reluctant bureaucrats to clamp down on companies that pollute.

In years past, the action a state agency could take when it discovered that toxic wastes were threatening people or the environment, were limited. Too often the law violators could only be put on notice that the state planned to take corrective action. Often that corrective action took months — even years — with empty promises, dozens of promises, but little results.

Once appointments are made to the Toxic Chemical Control Commission and it begins to function as intended, the commission itself will provide the vehicle for the Attorney General or other state agencies to take decisive action.

This new legislation gives the Attorney General the power to petition the Circuit Court for injunctions to restrain or eliminate conditions or practices which the Toxic Substance Control Commission has deemed as causing a toxic substance emergency.

I pledge the full resources of my office to bring prompt, bold and imaginative legal action on behalf of the Toxic Substance Control Commission against those who would pollute our air, degrade our streams, and defile our lands.

Working hand-in-hand with the new Commission, I hope to provide you, the public, with energetic and concentrated action to prevent any further toxic chemical tragedies in this state.

Wants county executive

Wayne County Commissioner R. William Joyner said this week that he would like the county to move off of dead-center on the issue of a county executive for Wayne. Joyner indicated that he will poll residents of the nine communities he represents and if sufficient support is evident, he will conduct a petition drive to have the question placed on the ballot for the voters to decide.

Joyner presses for county to move on executive idea

The peoples' choice may be for the hiring of a full-time Wayne County Executive to give single direction to the county's future.

Then again it may not. That's what William Joyner, Western Wayne County Commissioner, hopes to find out.

What do the people want? I am obviously in favor of having a county executive to try and pull us out of debt, but politicians only talk about it...

I want to go to the people with petitions and ask them what they want, and then get some action," said Joyner.

Joyner has called for a special meeting to be held at the Plymouth Township hall on Feb. 14 at 7:30 for the purpose of finding out if citizens are supportive of launching a citizens initiative drive to force the county to place the issue before the electorate in the next county-wide election in 1980.

He has invited the labor unions, township and city officials throughout Wayne County, volunteer groups such as the Jaycees and the League of Women voters to attend the informational meeting.

Already the league of women voters (LWV) has given support to the county executive concept, he noted.

Rep. Ford introduces legislation, proposing national health insurance

As the 96th Congress moved into high gear last week, Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) introduced three pieces of legislation dealing with health insurance and Social Security benefits.

One is the Health Security Act of 1979, a repeat of legislation offered by Congressman Ford and others last year to create a system of national health insurance. Another bill would prevent Social Security recipients from losing other federal benefits because of increased Social Security income. The third proposal is designed to eliminate abuses in the sale of health insurance to senior citizens to cover health costs over and above those covered by Medicare.

"I have been co-sponsor of national health insurance legislation for the past several years," Congressman Ford said, "and I am proud to be among its early sponsors this year."

"National health insurance is long overdue. The United States remains the only industrialized nation in the world without such a comprehensive plan for its citizens."

"Our legislation is based on two fundamental concepts," Congressman Ford said. "First, every American should be assured of access to proper health care, regardless of age, employment status or economic circumstances. Secondly, we must make improvements in the organization, availability, quality and cost of health care."

The second bill introduced by Congressman Ford would end a basic inequity in existing law.

"At present, any increases in Social Security benefits are counted as income for the purpose of deciding eligibility for other federal aid programs," Congressman Ford pointed out. "Thus, a person whose Social Security income is increased may lose such benefits as Medicaid, public housing, food stamps and supplemental security income."

"This is particularly unfair to senior citizens, who already are having a tough time keeping pace with inflation. Many end up worse off financially because of higher Social Security benefits. It is an absurd situation which must be corrected."

The third of Congressman Ford's proposals is aimed at the so-called "medi-gap" problem, which forces senior citizens to purchase additional health insurance to pick up where Medicare benefits end.

"Hearings last year by the Select Committee on Aging documented gross abuses in the marketing of this supplemental health insurance," Congressman Ford said. "Among the abuses were duplicative and overlapping policies, misleading language in policies and scare tactics by insurance salesmen."

Congressman Ford noted that Medicare covers only about 38 percent of health care costs for senior citizens, and that some 15 million Americans over 65 now have supplementary health insurance.

"Our legislation would mandate federal minimum standards for companies selling 'Medigap' insurance to our elderly,"

Congressman Ford said. "We also would require each state to establish minimum standards to prevent abuses at the state level."

Congressman Ford stressed that the vast majority of the nation's insurance companies are fair.

CRAFTMASTERS' POINT OF VIEW on the Sumpter Housing Rehabilitation Story!

Dear readers and all concerned parties:

I wish to publicly forgive the Associated Newspapers and their reporter for a gross misrepresentation of facts and some portions of the story that were totally false.

In this reporter's apparent zeal to write a story with sensation, she made little, if any, effort to find the truth!

Concerning the Housing Rehabilitation Project, all the people I've had contact with, including Wade & Trim and the people at the Sumpter Township Office, gave me the impression that they were making a sincere effort to handle the program with the best interest of the recipient in mind.

It is regrettable that many well-deserving people will lose these benefits if the program is dropped.

I have no interest to bid on any more of the work because even if it was profitable it's not worth the hassle.

For Van Buren 7

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

Canton Township officials are considering joining other Western Wayne County communities in lending their moral support to the seven Van Buren Township officials who were sent to jail by Circuit Court judge Charles Kaufman.

Recently the Van Buren officials were held to be in contempt of court by Judge Kaufman for refusing to obey his order to permit a proposed mobile home park to obtain sewer services.

"I think the judge may have made a terrible mistake, and should have kept out of the community's matters," said Trustee Robert Greenstein, also an attorney.

Greenstein, like others analyzing the court case, believe that the court intervened prematurely, and that Van Buren did not actually deny the developers of the proposed 90-acre mobile home park entry.

"The way I understand it is that the builder never went to the township board with his proposal. So why should a judge tell them what to do before they even have a chance to review the case," said Greenstein.

While there is discussion about having Canton declare their official support for the Van Buren 7, no action has been taken.

Associated Newspapers learned that the township did indeed, not deny the developer's entry, and that in early 1970 developers, in fact, failed to make an appearance at the planning commission for a requested rezoning of the property from single-family residential to mobile home residential.

Because of the developers failure to appear at the commission session the request was denied.

Had the developer followed proper channels, according to state law, he could have appealed the matter to the township board where a public hearing could have been scheduled.

"I think the judge took the issue out of the hands of the people and the local officials, and really had no business intervening," said Greenstein.

Canton Supervisor, Noel Culbert, however, does not share in Greenstein's sentiments.

Culbert, also an attorney, said he could not support the township's actions refusing to obey the judge's order. He does, however, admit township officials were denied their opportunity to deliberate and make a decision on the local matter via normal channels.

"No, I can't support them officially I think what they did was like spitting in the judges face and government can't be immune to the court system," said Culbert.

He said that while the board members should not have been sent to jail for their noncompliance, there are too many unanswered questions for him to make an official resolution supporting their conduct.

He said by supporting their actions he would be a flowing his emotions to control his actions rather than logic.

Trustee Lynn Goldsmith was the first Canton board member to suggest drafting a supportive resolution to the Van Buren members cause.

"I can not believe the judge made that decision. The developer didn't show up for anything...he just went straight to the judge to have the judge fight his case," said Mrs. Goldsmith.

She said her reason for not aggressively pursuing the drafting of a resolution issue is that she doesn't believe there is enough support on the Canton board to carry her motion.

Other board members interviewed by the Associated Newspaper said they were open to her suggestion and would look forward to seeing the issue discussed at board level.

Whether the Canton board decides to support Van Buren, Mrs. Goldsmith says she is launching her own campaign to encourage the Michigan Township's Association

(MTA) to formally support the jailed members.

Though the MTA is widely known to be conservative in their actions, she argues that if townships don't join together and stand up for their legal rights that slowly one by one the courts will begin to usurp the legislative body's powers and authority.

"We could be next," warned Mrs. Goldsmith.

Show of support

Van Buren Township officials say they'd go to jail again if ordered to before they'd allow a judge to tell them how to operate their local government. Giving them that extra boost of confidence are groups of other township officials either

Red Cross seeks blood donations

The Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Center operates under the philosophy that blood should be available to all members of the community who need it, regardless of their membership in a "plan" or past donor history.

That's why the Red Cross relies on community members to help meet the daily need of more than 950 pints of blood.

This "community coverage" plan means that hospitals in southeastern Michigan no longer need to charge patients a non-replacement fee when they are unable to replace blood used during surgery. However, hospitals still charge a processing fee to cover costs of cross-matching and transfusion of blood.

Healthy people between the ages of 18 (17 with parental permission) and 65 are urged to take a few minutes to donate blood, thus insuring that accident victims, blood disease patients and candidates for surgery get the blood they need.

Donations are accepted at the Dearborn Donor Center, Village Plaza, 23400 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Friday, to 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

Appointments can be made by calling 274-3900, or visit one of these blood mobile sites this month:

—Tuesday from 2 to 8 p.m. at St. Norbert's Church, 604 Sherbourne, Inkster. For an appointment call 562-9807, during blood drive hours.

Cedar Point hosts talent auditions

A summertime of show business experience awaits 150 persons chosen for live shows at Cedar Point amusement-theme park from auditions being conducted in this area this week.

"Talent Search '79" a six-state audition tour, will be in Ann Arbor tomorrow at the University of Michigan School of Music and in Detroit on Friday at the Renaissance Center. Auditions begin at 1 p.m.

Because of the diversity of entertainment offered in the Sandusky, Ohio park's 16 live shows, a wide variety of entertainers is needed.

Singers and musicians should have selections prepared that offer a variety of styles. Singers also should be prepared to show any dance abilities they have and musicians should bring other instruments, if they double.

Besides singers, dancers and musicians, live shows also is looking for specialty acts, magicians, ventriloquists, jugglers, clowns and persons interested in performing as park characters. Costumers and sound and light technicians and stage managers also are being recruited.

Technical interviews begin at 1 p.m., with performing auditions at 2 p.m. Auditions should be kept to two minutes for individuals, three minutes for groups.

Cedar Point, located on the shores of Lake Erie midway between Cleveland and Toledo, is the largest park in Mid-America.

Persons needing additional information on the auditions should contact Marjory Cronewett, Cedar Point Live Shows Department, at (419) 626-0830, ext. 2381.

SEMTA proposes Canton commuter bus service

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) is considering a "park and ride" through Western Wayne County, with Ford Road as the route.

The plan was recently discussed at a meeting, which attracted SEMTA representatives and representatives of the Nankin Transit Commission (NTC), a mini-bus, dial-a-ride system for senior citizens and handicapped in Wayne, Westland, Canton Township, Garden City and Inkster.

Currently, SEMTA provides that area with a line haul route—Canton Center Road east on Ford Road to Wayne Road, south to Cherry Hill Road, east to Outer Drive, south to Michigan Avenue and then east to Detroit's central business district.

Because the line haul system make numerous stops along the route, travel time is lengthy.

SEMTA, with its proposed park and ride program, would allow commuters to park their cars in a safe parking lot and board an express bus, which would make stops only at a few designated park and ride lots.

Commuters, under the plan, would face only a 65-minute ride to downtown Detroit as opposed to the current 1-hour, 20-minute journey.

The new route would originate at Canton Center Road, travel east on Ford Road to Wyoming, then south on Wyoming to I-94 and on into the central business district.

SEMTA officials said NTC would be required to serve as a demand-response—dial-a-ride—service for those commuters who don't want to drive to the park and ride lots along Ford Road in its service area through Canton Township, Westland and Garden City.

The change for NTC would mean extended hours and an opening of its service to the general public. Since it first began in 1975, it has been serving only seniors and handicapped residents.

At the meeting Canton grants coordinator Terry Carroll asked SEMTA officials if individual communities would be required to pay for the additional service through NTC, when the park and ride programs begins next month. Carroll said SEMTA officials stressed that the extended hours would be funded 100 percent by the state through a complex funding mechanism and guaranteed that the funding would continue beyond the first year of the program.

SEMTA officials also explained that NTC will serve as the transportation provider for Canton Township under the new Wayne County Essential Transportation Service (ETS) also scheduled to begin this year.

Under the new county ETS system, some of NTC's vehicles and a proportionate amount of the operating costs, will be funded by the state.

Sumpter Medical Center: 'Back to old family doctors'

The Oakwood Hospital Family Medical center on Sumpter Road south of Belleville looks neat and modern from all appearances, but it's really a "kickback to the old family doctor days".

According to Gerald Banish, M.D., who recently became the full-time assistant director of the hospital's family practice residency program, the philosophy of the medical center serving Sumpter and Canton townships is one of "providing care for the entire family from cradle to grave".

The physicians on the center's staff, all residents in Oakwood Hospital's medical education department, are specialists in family practice. Dr. Banish's responsibility is the supervision of these residents and the level of health care that patients receive.

"Virtually, 100 percent of all medical care needs can be met at the center," Dr. Banish said. "The family practice physicians provide a continuity of care to every member of the family. They are a kickback to the old family doctor days."

A full-range of x-rays and laboratory tests are available at the center, as well as the ancillary services provided by Oakwood Hospital, the largest in Western Wayne County.

The satellite center near Belleville was opened in 1972, first in a mobile unit, then in the present permanent structure in 1975. More than 10,000 patients are treated annually.

A native of Dearborn who had a private practice in that city for 17 years prior to coming to Oakwood, Dr. Banish is a 1953 graduate of the University of Michigan. He earned his medical degree from Wayne State University in 1960. He is certified by the American Board of Family Practice.

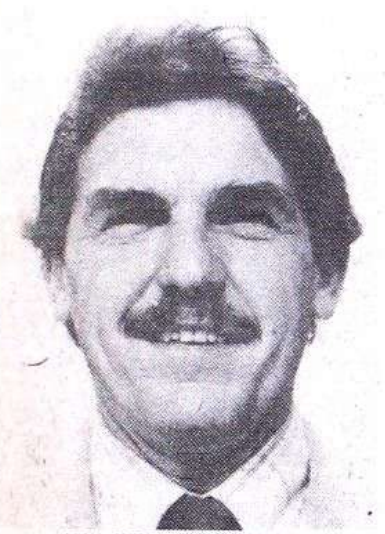

Dr. Banish is a clinical instructor in the Wayne State University Department of Family Medicine.

Children's play staged

Children in the community as well as their parents and friends are invited to attend the special evening performance of Washtenaw Community College's Children's Theater group on Feb. 16 at 7 p.m. at the college.

This season's play, "The Magic Ribbon," is an original drama written by WCC drama instructor Dr. William Devereaux. The whimsy is a portrayal of toys coming alive in a store one night as they get ready for the inspector general's check the next day. He is to announce the best toy store in the land following his inspection.

Following the performance, for which tickets are 50 cents, refreshments will be served. The play will be given in the Second Floor Reception area of the college's Student Center Building, 4800 E. Huron River Drive.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or may be reserved by phoning 973-3625.

Dr. Devereaux's theater group also is available for performances away from the college.

Maynard Ferguson, Taylor Dancers to appear at MH

Trumpet virtuoso Maynard Ferguson and his concert orchestra will be in concert for one performance at 6:30 p.m. next Sunday, Feb. 18 at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit.

For more than 25 years, Maynard Ferguson and his music have defied labels. His most recent albums (he has recorded 50) features jazz, disco, funk swing and march band music. In a recent trade publication, Maynard occupied and top spot in the sophisticated "Jazz Album" category, but also had a single in the "Top 40."

At the Music Hall, his program will range from an echo-enhanced "Over the Rainbow" to "Vesti la Giubba" from the opera "Pagliacci" to his disco hit "Gonna Fly Now" from the movie "Rocky." A fan summed it up nicely when he said: "Ferguson is the only musician that my wife, my daughter and I can all enjoy together."

In the last three years, his concert schedule has taken him all over the world, including three tours of Japan, the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland and the Olympic Stadium in Montreal. Interestingly, the majority of his current fans range in age from 15 to 25 — remarkable for an artist whose first claim to fame was as the lead trumpet for Stan Kenton in 1950.

Also appearing at the Music Hall later this month will be the zany and zestful Paul Taylor Dance Company, which is returning to Detroit to perform some of its best loved dances, as well as some new ones.

From Feb. 21-25 the troupe will present a delightful array of dances, ranging from the funniest to the most dynamic of its repertoire.

Winner of numerous national and international awards, Paul Taylor is noted as "a giant among modern dance choreographers." Just to name a few, Paul Taylor has received the Festival of Nations' International Award for Choreography, the Guggenheim Fellowship for Choreography, the Dancer of the Year Award from "Dance and Dancers", and the choreography award from the National Endowment for the Arts. The foremost dance critics around the world agree on Paul Taylor's natural gift for choreography.

The 13 members of Paul Taylor's troupe not only impress audiences with their athletic ability, but also create an atmosphere of excitement with their constant driving energy. "Diggity," Taylor's newest piece which premiered three months ago, is a highly energetic number showing the dancers' strong yet bouyant physicality.

On the company's Detroit program, "Diggity" represents the dramatic side of Paul Taylor's inventive mind while the riotously funny "Book of Beasts" points to his fantastic wit. It between are dances of imagery, sexuality and mystery all danced with a sense of humor.

The Paul Taylor Dance Company recently returned from an overwhelmingly successful tour of the Soviet Union where the company received 12 curtain calls for their final performance in Leningrad. This was their 10th U.S. State Department-sponsored tour. The company has danced in more than 200 cities in the United States and has completed 22 overseas tours.

Evening performances of the Paul Taylor Dance Company begin at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday. Matinees are at 1 p.m. on Thursday and 2 p.m. on Saturday. All tickets can be obtained from the Music Hall box office, 350 Madison Avenue, or by calling 963-7680 between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Group rates are available from Joan Heidt, 963-7622.

Actors whose professional credits include New York, Hollywood and London, have been cast in the Meadow Brook Theatre's production of Noel Coward's farce, "Blithe Spirit", which opened last week for four weeks at the Oakland University theater.

Michael Allinson, who captivated Meadow Brook audiences earlier this season as General Burgoyne in "The Devil's Disciple," has returned to play the central role that Coward himself originated in London.

The character is Charles Condomine, a cool novelist, a scoffer at the idea of ghosts. His troubles begin when he arranges a seance in his country home to get material for a new book, bringing in a kooky medium for the purpose, named Madame Arcati, who will be played by Jeanne Arnold. Miss Arnold will be remembered for her outstanding performances last year at Meadow Brook in "She Stoops to Conquer", "Picnic" and "The Corn Is Green."

Madame Arcati is piqued that Condomine doubts her occult powers and she demonstrates her gift in a way the novelist can never forget. She summons up the spirit of Elvira, Condomine's departed first wife. Elvira's ghost can only be seen and heard by Condomine, much to the consternation of his second wife, Ruth, who will be played by Valerie French. Elvira will be portrayed by Cheryl Giannini, a popular Meadow Brook actress who most recently played Lady India in "Ring Round the Moon" last month. Others in the production will be Ken Graham, Mary Benson and Louise Martin.

"Blithe Spirit" is being staged by Terence Kilburn with a setting by Donald Beckman, lights by Fred Fonner and costumes by Mary Lynn Bonnell.

Tickets for "Blithe Spirit," which will run through Feb. 25, 1979 may be purchased by calling the Meadow Brook Theatre box office at 377-3300.

Performances of "Blithe Spirit" are scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., on Saturdays, 6:30 p.m. on Sundays and 2 p.m. on Wednesdays. The theatre is dark on Mondays.

From concert to lecture to play

Museum's theater logs a busy February schedule

Audiences at Henry Ford Museum Theater this month can learn the pleasures and pitfalls of restoring a 19th century home, enjoy the Greenfield Village Players in the 1939 comedy "The Man Who Came to Dinner", and soak up ballpark atmosphere even before the season opener with a concert by Tiger Stadium organist Dan Greer.

On Friday and Saturday evenings through March 10, the Stanley family endures an outrage a minute in "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Sheridan Whiteside, the worldly man of letters, is confined to the Stanley home after he falls on the front steps. He then proceeds to burden the household with a cockroach farm, ex-convicts and bills for long-distance phone calls from the earth's far corners. Showtime is 8:30 p.m., and admission is $3.50. Audiences can take advantage of the dinner-theater option available at each performance. Optional cocktails are 6:30 p.m., and a dinner served, in Heritage Hall, is at 7 p.m. A cost of $12.50 per person covers dinner, the performance and all taxes and gratuities. Advance reservations are required for the dinner-theater program. Call (313) 271-1620, ext. 417, for more information.

The Feb. 8 Antiques Lecture Series offering examines the challenges of buying a dilapidated 1833 home, returning it to its original appearance and making it suitable for habitation.

In "A Dollar House is No Bargain: A Personal Preservation Experience," Katharine Bryant Hagler, curator of furniture, Henry Ford Museum, and her husband, Charles Hagler, director of Civic Affairs, General Motors Corp. will pass on restoration tips and recommendations based on their two-year preservation efforts. Admission is $3, and the lecture begins at 8:30 p.m.

Dan Greer, the Tiger Stadium organist, presents a program of old favorites, including some selections especially suited to the game of baseball, on Feb. 18 at 3:30 p.m. During his mixture of music and story-telling, a bad call by an umpire is likely to be followed by a rendition of "Three Blind Mice" or another fitting melody.

There is no charge for the concert beyond the regular museum admission.

Concert features 'hearts'

A collection of love songs and happy melodies will be on the program at 3 p.m. Sunday as the Westland Civic Orchestra presents "A Valentine Card," its second concert of the season.

The performance will be held at the John Glenn High School auditorium, on Marquette west of Wayne Road in Westland. Admission is free.

The orchestra, sponsored by the City of Westland through the Parks and Recreation Department, is made up of musicians from the city and surrounding communities. The director is Norman A. Logan.

The Valentine concert will include selections from the musical play "Oliver," and from "Hullabaloo." The audience also will hear the classic light flute tones of Mozart's Flute Concerto No. 1, as well as the contemporary music of Jimmy Webb and his "MacArthur Park."

Featured soloist on the flute will be Pat Goodwine, a music teacher at Truman Junior High School in Taylor.

All area residents are invited to the concert. And if you have a musical inclination, the orchestra welcomes you to become a member of the group itself. New members are always welcome. Interested persons should call the Westland recreation department at 722-7620.

Science Center has view of achievements

The Detroit Science Center houses a full spectrum of exhibits as examples of man's achievements and advances in coping with natural phenomena. Somethings, however, man will never control; winter daylight is one of them. So during the long, frigid winter months when Thomas Edison's genius takes over for Mother Nature the Science Center accommodates visitors with daylight at night.

Visitors to the Science Center normally say that the center is brilliant from within because it provides entertaining education. Clever exhibits and displays that visitors operate under the "hands on" policy make people radiate with curiosity and enthusiasm.

Children glow at the welcome of Ozzie Ford the Robot, who has more information about the science Center in his master cylinder than nuts and bolts in his handsome chassis.

"COSMOS", the 70 mm film production shown daily in the Spafe Theater is a glorious rendering of the universe from its explosive beginning to now. Viewers come away from this fantastic production awed and electrified at the impact of the wrap-around screen and 6-track stereophonic sound. The experience is stupefying, thrilling and above all illuminating.

In every aspect the Detroit Science Center beams with new ideas in a very entertaining format. To complement the inner brilliance, the Science Center now features an outside glow from its new completely lighted parking area. Open seven days and nights a week, the center is at the corner of John R. and Warren.

MORT CRIM TALKS WITH:

"Detroit's New Americans"

Who are they? The Arabs. The Latinos. The Yugoslavs. The Koreans. And others.

Where do they live and work? How can we help them adjust? How long will it take them to realize their great American dream?

What do they bring to Detroit? And what brought them to Detroit — possibly the most ethnically diverse city in the world?

Mort Crim looks into these questions in an informative News 4 special report, "Detroit's New Americans", starting Monday, February 5th, and continuing throughout this month.

Don't miss Mort Crim with: "Detroit's New Americans", on News 4 Detroit.

Editor's Log

This guy's dream is the State Wayne

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

You've heard about "more money than sense." But have you heard about no money, lots of sense and guts?

Well, if not, maybe you should wander by the old State Wayne Theatre one of these days and meet the man responsible for that show's resurrection.

Bob Stottlemeyer is the man's name, and bringing this area top stars is his game.

Stottlemeyer, a full-time fireman in the city of Westland, took a circuitous route to get to his current situation with the State Wayne and the live entertainment business.

Bob is an active guy and for that reason, he often was called on by his fire fighting colleagues to handle special assignments for them. Among them was managing the fire fighters benevolent fund charity fund raisers. Strangely enough, this often found Bob in the company of many top stars in the entertainment business who the fire fighters brought to the area for benefit performances.

Aside from Stottlemeyer's rubbing elbows with the stars, he has been active in the community's programs to help the less fortunate, has conducted tours of area hospitals with celebrities to brighten the lives of those who are disabled, and has generally been the type of neighbor that anyone would be happy to call his own.

It was during this period in his life when the first stirrings were felt that ultimately directed him to arrange a lease for the closed State

Wayne and to schedule live name entertainment for Western Wayne County.

For those of us who have only wished to fulfill a dream, Stottlemeyer's struggles with the realities of the entertainment business brought with it the realization that wishing is easier, and safer.

Not being a man of independent wealth, when the decision was made to lease the State Wayne Theatre, it carried with it the requirement to put money where the heart was.

And that money had to come from a mortgage on the old homestead that had just previously been the scene of a mortgage burning party.

Often the price tag on dreams is higher than chatel.

Lease in hand, money in the bank, and a mind full of ideas, Stottlemeyer began the struggle to put together a winning formula that would provide this area with access to the top stars of the world, but would also provide him with the means of making those loan payments.

Bob started quickly to make changes in the 1,400-seat theater which he felt were necessary to properly present his idea.

Fortunately, the State Wayne had been noted for its fine acoustics, and that area needed little attention. But the theater's sound system needed work and getting the show in shape was a costly task.

Finally, the day came when the hallowed halls of the State Wayne were to roar with the approval of the audience witnessing Roger Miller and Company. The roar was there but it emanated from too few people to cover the cost of the performers, let alone pay the overhead. Stottlemeyer's first show had cost him $6,000.

Philosophically accepting the huge loss, Bob looked forward to country and western singer Don Williams attracting a large enough group to help offset the Miller deficit.

When Williams had left Wayne and the accounting was complete, Stottlemeyer found that he had paid an additional $1,000 to provide that show.

Although things looked bleak, two shows and a $7,000 deficit, Stottlemeyer proceeded to book talent for Wayne.

Today, following several more performances by name entertainment, the total loss is closer to $15,000. But the loss on each performance is now much lower than before and it looks like Stottlemeyer Productions of Wayne will make it.

He will make it in spite of the absence of the support promised by many of the area's public officials.

Maybe that's the way it should be.

If the day ever comes when the old State Wayne recovers some of its lost luster, maybe Bob Stottlemeyer will forget that the area's officials forgot to come.

But he won't forget all those who bought those first tickets.

Dreams certainly are expensive items.

Editorial opinions

Wayne County Exec a good idea

It is interesting to note that once again discussion is taking place of the merits of a County Executive.

While much has been said on that subject over the past several years, this new movement toward the county executive is being promoted by a freshman county commissioner, William Joyner.

The young man from Plymouth Township, has wasted little time in rising the ire of his fellow officials, and incurring the wrath of several county bureaucrats.

According to Joyner, his suggestion to study the county executive, a position similar to the position of mayor in a city, is based on his study of the county's operation and the discovery that there is a distinct shortage of decision makers within county government.

It is of course no secret that Wayne County has been for years, cited as the very best example available, of the shortcomings of the antiquated system of government which allows politicians and their friends to control vital services for millions of people.

Throughout county government, politics has always been the largest export product, while service to the people is the charge mandated by the citizens.

With forces on both sides of the question, lining up to do battle over the county executive concept, the line-up promises to provide county observers with new insight into just what the real goal of county government is.

It is still early in the battle, a battle that will once again witness Coleman Young's Detroit commissioners opposing any shift of power away from 'Hiz Honor,' but already, the League of Women voters has endorsed the change to a county executive as well as the governor of the state who in addition, threatened to withhold state funds until such a move toward improved efficiency is accomplished.

To Joyner's credit, he has said that if the move toward serious study of the county executive is ignored by his fellow commissioners, he will personally take the issue to the voters via an initiative petition drive that could place the question on the ballot for the voters to decide.

We support Joyner's efforts to promote serious discussion of the benefits of a county executive for Wayne County.

Don't ask the IRS— they only work there

According to a recent article in the Reader's Digest, if you need tax advice, the IRS is a bad place to go for that advice.

Current projects indicate that the IRS will provide that free tax advice for some 44 million citizens before April 15, but its information may only be worth as much as it costs — nothing.

Dr. Robert S. Holzman, professor of accounting and a specialist in tax matters at the University of Connecticut, charges that IRS agents and their publications frequently offer conflicting and erroneous advice, while accepting no responsibility for their actions: courts have repeatedly ruled that if a mistake is made, it is the taxpayer's fault.

Writing in the February Reader's Digest, Holzman says: "The shocking truth is that agency employees can and do make mathematical errors, distribute wrong forms, offer incorrect advice, overstep their own bounds and even change the rules retroactively." In evidence, he cites among others a study made last year by the General Accounting Office, where staffers posed as puzzled taxpayers at various IRS offices and discovered an error rate of 13 percent.

Two examples illustrate the scope of misinformation the taxpayer is apt to receive:

"Your Federal Income Tax," published by the IRS, was distributed to 2.7 million individuals in 1977. In it, one couple found an example on deducting property losses closely analogous to a loss they themselves had experienced. Following the example, they claimed a casualty loss deduction of $2400. The IRS refused to allow the deduction and was upheld by a judge of the U. S. Tax Court, who explained: "Such informal publication is not a source of authoritative law in the tax field."

In another incident, a taxpayer was notified that he owed additional tax. Since he wanted to have the matter reviewed by a U. S. Tax Court, he asked the IRS how much time he would have to appeal. Two different IRS representatives gave him the same deadline. When he filed, however, the IRS threw his petition out on the ground that it was late. The Tax Court concurred, noting that he should have been "capable of determining the 90-day period himself."

To its credit, the IRS has introduced a simplified short form that is less error-prone than its predecessor, beefed up its assistance centers and intensified its training program. But much remains to be done. "The agency should inform taxpayers in clear and unequivocal language that its employees can and do make mistakes," Holzman writes, adding that it should also warn them that the taxpayer will be liable for any errors made.

It should continue simplifying its forms and improving its training programs to help reduce the rate of error. Finally, the Congress should produce a tax law written in such a way that average taxpayers can understand it and file their returns without professional help.

Health Beat

Gross—y'know what I mean!

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

Recently, I have the good fortune to meet with a group of local high school students and talk to them about possible careers in the health care industry.

It was fun, and I'm sure I learned more than the young students. But there was one thing which piqued my curiosity: the slang of the day.

I'm convinced that a world and olympic record must have been established for the use of the noun gross. Now what I'm going to write today must not be considered necessarily critical. Lord knows that when I was 17 my peer group also had a language of its own.

But gross—well, I heard that word at least 600 times, and it was used as verb transitive, noun, adjective, and in several instances in a manner which I couldn't honestly assign a classification.

How do these things happen? For instance, as we listened just a few years ago to the testimony connected with Watergate, one phrase continued to surface. Now, it seems that half of our nation just gets its collective jollies by saying, "At this point in time," or "At that point in time."

I hope I'll be forgiven, but the point-in-time construction is a linguistic abomination not worthy of utterance by civilized human beings.

What does it really mean? If the speaker or writer means yesterday or today, then why not take the sane way out and say yesterday or today?

We seem to have developed a propensity, nay, a compulsion, to complicate beyond reason our methods of communication.

Now here's another one which brings water to my eyes when I hear some otherwise bright individual use it, "Do you know where I'm coming from?"

When I hear that phrase, I shiver because for some reason it reminds me of chalk scratching on a blackboard. Besides the obvious grammatical sin (ending a sentence in a preposition), it's really an impotent way of saying that the speaker has a bias or predetermined position on some thing or another.

My favorite, at least for now, is the ubiquitous "You know" or "You know what, I mean?"

Gad zooks, Crumley, why must we pepper our conversations with such inanities?

It appears that the person who feels forced to use such nonsense is really unsure of himself and is begging the listener to agree without exercising any cerebral functions.

It's fun, when someone assaults your ears with a few dozen "You knows", to look at him and say, "No, I don't know." You can be assured that such a response will bring even the most insensitive advocate of slang to his knees.

When I was a student, many years ago at The University of Michigan, I had one English teacher who revealed in ripping the pomposity out of sophomore themes and term papers. We called him C-Minus Hawkins; a - C minus was the best grade he would give. Now, some 30 years later, I appreciate what the good teacher was doing as he wrestled with his young charges in what was usually a futile attempt to pound the basics of acceptable English usage into our heads.

He had a famous line which he wrote in bold letters just after the C-minus grade he'd mark on your peerless prose.

He simply said, "Mr. Tuttle, write to express, not impress."

That's good advice, you know what I mean?

Resident hits 'Rent-a-cops'

Editor:

How long must Romulus residents be subjected to the inefficiency of our "Rent a Cop" police force?

The two occasions when I personally requested assistance from the individuals who are contracted to protect the lives and property of Romulus residents convinced me that our protection is minimal.

The first incident where I requested assistance was, vandalism to my son's automobile. The police were called and when they arrived, (much later) they assumed an air of total disinterest, the comment from one of the officers was "We can't do anything because the offenders are juveniles."

When I questioned that position the officer stated to me and the neighbors protesting his statement "I don't wish to discuss it further" whereupon he got into his automobile and left.

The most recent problem is teenagers terrorizing the neighborhood lawns with snowmobiles.

Again when the "Rent a cops" arrived the only response we received was "We can't catch them" whereupon they exited the neighborhood not to return.

We the residents of Romulus expect more than excuses, we expect results — that is what we are paying for.

I have suspected that when Wayne County completes the duty roster, Romulus gets what is left over.

The time has come for Romulus to join the more progressive cities. We must have a police force of concerned Romulus residents who care about our city twenty four hours a day.

With a permanent group of officers supplemented by an expanded auxiliary police, the cost would most likely be comparable to the current contract with the Wayne County Sheriff.

This one letter to the editor does not carry much weight. I suggest the mayor could initiate a questionnaire asking the residents opinions such as the type of response time, courtesy, number of times a police car is seen patrolling the neighborhood etc., with that input the city government could act to satisfy its residents. If the majority is satisfied with the status quo so be it.

Chamber rapped on new policy

To The Editor:

This letter is in regard to the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce new solicitation policy.

As a life long resident of this area, and a patron of many of the member businesses, I am shocked to hear that they would even consider approving such a policy.

According to a front page announcement in the January 31, 1979, edition of the Belleville Enterprise, the Chamber of Commerce would like to discourage local businesses from making charitable contributions to "schools, churches, uniformed government employees, children under the age of 14" as well as "the handicapped and the aged."

Does this mean that the police and fire departments, (uniformed government employees all) will no longer be able to collect gifts and food for the "handicapped and aged" at Christmas time?

For years, local nursery shops have donated trees and shrubs to the Brownies and Boy Scouts, to be planted on Arbor Day. Will this be eliminated because the recipients are "children under the age of 14?"

While I fully recognize the need to screen out fraudulent or unethical collections, I feel that the Chamber has failed to give this matter proper consideration. They are working to exclude the "schools, churches, uniformed government employees, children under the age of 14, the aged and the handicapped" from charitable donations . . . and those are the very same people who patronize their stores daily, keeping them in business!

It doesn't seem right to me.

Likes Wayne's entertainment

Editor:

Mr. Robert Stottlemeyer is to be complimented for bringing to Wayne such fine entertainment as The Norman Luboff Choir.

His efforts to "bring back" the city deserves to be supported. It would have been nice to have seen some of Wayne's officials at Sunday evening's performance.

Their loss, the choir under Mr. Luboff was superb.

It seemed very good to be to see a traffic jam in the middle of town which is rare, most cars are racing straight through.

Coverage of these events by our local press would help make our residents more aware of what is being offered or what they may have missed.

I live in Westland (by voters choice) but consider Wayne my town.

Don't give up Bob Stottlemeyer.

Reflections

Day of independence

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Independence day dawned bright and cold... near zero it was. That is because this independence day was not the one we celebrate on the fourth of July, but the one my youngest kid was going to celebrate on her 18th birthday.

For weeks she had been saying, "Oh boy, just two more weeks until I can do exactly as I please." "Oh boy, just one more week and you can't ever tell me what I can or can't do."

When she was leaving for the evening and was asked what time she expected to be back in, she would roll her eyes and say, "Thank God, it's only a few more days until I'm eighteen. And then no one can tell me what time I have to come in."

Sometimes her father would come up out of his snug sack and look at her as if he were going to start an evening fracas, but most of the time I was lucky in being able to leap across the room and zip up his snug-sack, right over his head, which kept words from being heard too clearly.

Two days before our baby was eighteen she decided she should get a job. No matter that her school load was extra heavy, and her extra-curricular duties (pleasures) were heavier. It was a job she wanted. Naturally when her father said she couldn't have a job while in high school she put up an awful fuss, storming and stamping and threatening to leave home. But a hot dinner and her allowance quieted her down.

"Just two more days..." she muttered. "Two more days and I'll be free..."

And so it was that I faced her upcoming birthday with fear and trepidation. Even though I had gone through five other independence days and none of them had really took, still there was the off-chance that this time it might.

The birthday girl came down into the kitchen.

"Damn" she said. "I'm in such a good mood. I hate it when I'm in such a good mood."

"Why?" I asked.

"Because then I'm liable to agree with anybody on anything..." and she stuffed a half-pound of bacon in her mouth.

"Do you always have to have bacon? I hate bacon." And she ate the rest of it which was lying on the platter.

Heaping four slices of toast with peanut butter and jelly, she stuffed it in her mouth and then looked at me.

"I can do anything I want to tonight," she said. "And I don't have to tell you when I'm coming in."

I grabbed my hand holding the carving knife, lest it should do some carving, and held on to the sink.

"I think I'll go to a bar..."

"Ha, what for? You can't buy a drink!" The big kid uttering these fighting words rolled in laughter as he pointed out to her that when he was eighteen he could go into a bar and have a DRINK.

"So?" she answered coolly, which seemed to indicate that she might be growing up. "I don't drink, anyway. But I can go in and dance and listen to the music. And stay till it closes." This last remark was aimed at me, but I pretended that I didn't know that and kept my mouth shut. However, the worry was there...

lying heavy on my heart. She spent most of the day on the telephone telling all of her girl friends how she had at last won independence, and how she was going to a bar that night, and staying until it closed. But no one could go with her. They weren't 18.

"Boy it sure feels good not to have to ask to go anywhere anymore," she said, tossing her hair as she went upstairs in the early evening.

A couple of hours later she came down all tucked into her pajamas. Grabbing the snug-sack from her father, she cuddled herself into it, and lay down on the floor to watch television.

"Thought you were going to the bar," her brother whooped.

"Nope," she answered.

Naturally, having been a mother for many years I didn't say anything, but apparently my kid could read my thoughts, for she rolled over and looked at me.

"I'm not going because I don't want to go," she said. "And no one was telling me I couldn't!"

Headlee tax limitation studied by legislature

By DAVID A. PLAWECKI
State Senator

As the 80th Legislative Session gets underway, certainly one of the most important responsibilities that will be confronting the House and Senate will be the implementation of the Headlee tax limitation amendment, or Proposal E.

The amendment, which was approved by the voters in November, establishes a limitation on total state revenues in relation to the total personal income of Michigan residents. Based on present estimates of state revenue and personal income, it appears that the revenue limitation ratio will be about 9.6 percent. Thus, for future years state revenue will not be allowed to exceed 9.6 percent of personal income in the prior calendar year. Given these figures, it is unlikely that the Headlee amendment will have any immediate impact on state finances.

Nevertheless, there are several areas which the Legislature must address promptly in order to ensure the effective operation of the amendment.

One of the first areas which must be examined concerns the provision both restricting the Legislature from mandating any future program or service without providing for full funding, and restricting it from decreasing present funding levels for existing programs required of units of local government by law.

In putting this provision into effect, it will be incumbent upon the Legislature to precisely define an "activity" or "service", determine what a "necessary cost" is as well as the proportion of those costs paid by the state in 1978-79. For example, if this year the state is paying 50 percent of the cost of a state mandated activity or program, then in future years it will have to continue to pay 50 percent of the necessary costs.

The provision which establishes a property tax roll-back must also be reviewed by the Legislature.

Under the Headlee amendment, if the state equalized value of existing property (excluding new construction and improvements) increases more rapidly than the Consumer Price Index, the millage rate will have to be reduced sufficiently to yield the same revenue on existing property as collected previously when adjusted for inflation. It will be the duty of the Legislature to develop the mechanics of how the roll-back provision will be implemented. I am confident that the Legislature will move with dispatch in making those determinations.

Since the Headlee amendment requires that excess revenue collected by the state in any one year be refunded to the people, the Legislature will also be working on creation of a rebate system in the event that state revenue does exceed the accepted limit.

As set forth in Headlee, these rebates are to be limited to taxpayers with reported tax liabilities; namely those who file income tax or single business tax returns. Given this arrangement, some people, most notably senior citizens and lower-income families, will not share in the distribution of any surplus because they often do not file tax returns.

This may occur even though these individuals probably will have contributed to the state surplus by paying various taxes, such as sales and use taxes, on items they may purchase throughout the year. This certainly constitutes an injustice and should undoubtedly be reviewed by the Legislature in order to ensure an equitable distribution of any excess revenue.

Beyond these specific areas which must be considered by the Legislature, passage of the tax limitation amendment mandates the Legislature to turn over increasing attention to the cost, quality and achievements of public programs in Michigan.

In sum, as the 1979-80 Legislative Session progresses, those of us in the State Senate and House will be doing everything in our power to control and eliminate waste, inefficiency and ineffectiveness in public services of all kinds.

On the Brighter Side

Girth, goals and grapefruit

By JIM BRADLEY

Alright, I've taken enough snide remarks about my pudgy exterior.

So much so, in fact, that I've promised to do my best to get down to 195 pounds before the year is out. (I didn't say which year). That's right, I'm really serious about losing some of my excess baggage.

It's bad enough when your fellow workers continually probe you with the needle — saying you look several months pregnant. But when friends you haven't seen in years roll on the floor in laughter at a public restaurant, it's time to do something drastic.

And so I'm in the midst of setting some goals for 1979.

This goal-setting expedition will hopefully make this year the most meaningful 12 months of my life. And I'll admit it's long overdue. That's because I'm so much like you, I let things slide too long. In the case of my overweight frame, I guess you could say I've let things go to pot.

Of course, that's just a figure of speech. And a guy with a figure like mine shouldn't go around making speeches. However, I've been compelled to take drastic action by the comments of well-meaning friends.

Like, as if someone was trying to tell me something, two people came across my path recently who hadn't seen me in years. Both incidents took place in a local restaurant — almost as if the setting were axiomatic. (Look that up in your Webster's Collegiate). They had last seen me years ago when my baggage was considerably less excessive.

Both long-time friends, on these different occasions, used about the same terminology, namely, to the effect that I had put on a surprising amount of weight. "Pansy, you look as young as ever — you haven't changed a bit in the past 20 years," they said with proper decorum to my wife. Then, turning with jaundiced eye toward me, they gasped, "Jim!" Didn't you used to be real skinny years ago? Why, we remember when you played baseball and basketball and had a slender figure."

(Now the only slender figure I have is my paycheck).

You know, they could have gone all day and not said what they did. But these were not ne'er-do-wells or instigators, they were simply "candid" in their appraisal of my avoirdupois. (Don't ask me how to spell that last word). So, in response to their kind concern, I purposed in my mind to shed some pounds.

After all, I was beginning to look like the chubby gal who was extra heavy in the backside. She still had an hour-glass figure. But you might say — "time was running out."

Putting even more pressure on me was my good friend in our newspaper office who told me he was going on a "grapefruit diet." That's really not so great, he's just a little "squirt" to begin with. And then, of course, there were the conflicting bits of advice I picked up along the way.

One sign said, "Thin is in," while another advocated "Fat is where it's at." I decided to go to my doctor and let him guide my weight reduction. I came home from the doctor's with a weak piece of paper in my hand containing a 1200 calorie diet. Anything that contains only 1200 calories has got to be weak.

"He's got to be kidding!" I pleaded with my wife.

She offered little help although she did crack, "Jim, I know how you can lose 10 pounds of ugly fat. Cut off your head." However, I ignored her advice and plunged into a set of goals for this year that would give me plenty of exercise and hopefully reduce my size. I have been growing a little each year and I certainly don't want to reach the size of the man who described himself as "a size 46-Porky."

I grimly determined to write a list of proposed goals and started with "exercise regularly." Next I added "Write 5 or 10 columns ahead." When my wife stopped laughing, I wrote, "Do more writing than ever before."

Joining my list of aspirations, in order, were these goals: Save money, Take care of my duties more promptly, Be on time, and Sort out ties and clothes I seldom use and give them to Salvation Army.

Two other goals I jotted down together, for no particular reason, were "Be nicer to my wife" and "Go to bed earlier." Now some psychologist would probably say I subconsciously grouped those two together for some specific reason. But you and I know it was completely subliminal, don't we?

Well, there are my goals for 1979 — and my main objective is to shed enough pounds so I don't look related to Flipper. Maybe I'll try my buddy's Scarsdale diet — you know, the one where all you eat is grapefruit and dry Rye toast. But now it's time that something drastic was done.

One thing is for sure. I'm gonna cut down at restaurants that serve such delicious food. They say if you eat too much, you'll get fat in the wrong places.

So, I'll just have to stop going to those places.

Swaffer honored for 10-year stint with BJ university

John D. Swaffer of Belleville recently was honored for his 10 years of association with Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C.

Dr. Bob Jones III, president of the university, presented Swaffer with a watch at a meeting of more than 500 faculty and staff members in recognition of his "faithful service" to the university.

Swaffer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Swaffer of Hull Road, Belleville, is a graduate of Belleville High School. He received a certificate of completion from the Institute of Christian Service, a three-year nonacademic program at Bob Jones University, in 1969 and a bachelor of arts degree in 1978.

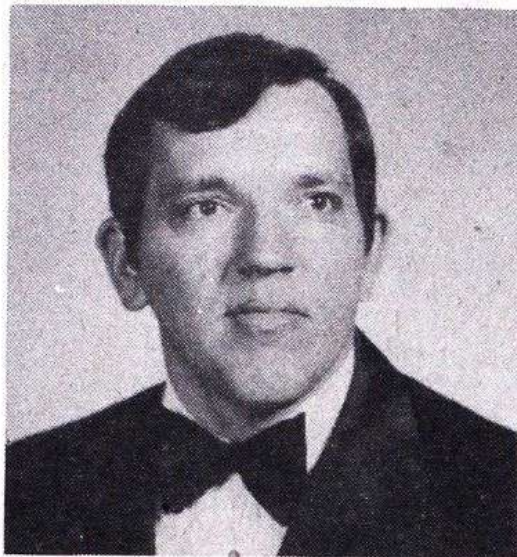

He is the assistant production manager at the university. In other college news:

Belleville collegian Juan Verde, the son of Mrs. Janet Verde of Angola Street, will play the role of Bob Acres' servant in this week's Eastern Michigan University Players' production of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "The Rivals".

Verde, a freshman majoring in speech and dramatic arts, has appeared in several lab mimes at EMU.

Romulus resident Mark L. Popp was among students named to the Dean's honor roll for the fall evening term at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

He had to maintain a 3.5 grade minimum point average to be named to the academic list.

Stage set for WW championships

BY TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The coaches agree: Belleville is the team to catch at the annual Western Wayne Swimming and Diving Championships. So, what's new? Coach Sam Vicchy's Tigers have won a handful of WW swimming titles and this year the Suburban 8 Conference powerhouse doesn't appear eager to give up the coveted championship.

But if victory is to hand over the crown, the host, Wayne Memorial, probably will be first in line. Wayne has an untarnished 8-0 dual meet record, but even veteran coach Jim McPartlin is the first to admit, "that Belleville is the one to catch."

"They have some excellent swimmers and depth and that combination produces winners," said McPartlin.

The two-day meet will get underway on Friday at 4 p.m. with the preliminaries and the diving competition. There is a 50 cents admission charge for students and adults.

The teams will again converge upon Wayne on Saturday at 2 p.m. when the finals will be staged. The cost for admission on Saturday is 50 cents and a $1 for students and adults respectively.

The field also will include swimmers representing Westland John Glenn, Livonia Franklin, Garden City East, Garden City West, Cherry Hill and Livonia Churchill.

Some of the blue chip tankers whom fans should keep their eyes on are Wayne's senior, Dave Hills, who has a shot at breaking a couple of distance records; Belleville's sprinter, Mark Stoleton, Franklin's 50-yard freestyler, Tim Weber, Belleville's All-Area breaststroke and individual medley man, Joe Thomas, and teammate Chris Renton, who turned in a sterling effort at the Detroit News' sponsored meet.

SAM VICCHY

Tiger tankers shoot for Dearborn's crown

It's no secret that one of Coach Sam Vicchy's ambitions in life is to beat Dearborn.

Dearborn, the Class A state swim power, and perennial Suburban 8 Conference champ, has been a thorn in Vicchy and Belleville's sides since the inception of the league some nine years ago.

And Vicchy, after 10 consecutive losses to the Pioneers, has come close to knocking off the champ but they seem to manage to elude the plotting Tiger mentor.

The two teams will meet again at 7:30 p.m. at Dearborn High and, according to Vicchy, "it's the type of meet that can go either way."

"It will be an excellent meet," said Vicchy after the Tigers polished off Edsel Ford, 62-21, to remain undefeated in the conference and 8-2 on the season. "We came close last year - but close doesn't count in this sport."

Belleville swept 10 of 11 events in its devastating triumph over the T-Birds, once a power in the league.

"What has happened, I feel, is that they (Edsel Ford) hasn't been doing their homework and we have caught up."

Oh, those days of Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

There are some of us around who still remember the days of the "awesome twosome" Davis and Blanchard who put West Point on the map in football.

Those were the days when the military was knocking the hell out of Nazis Germany in Europe and Davis and Blanchard were churning out touchdowns for the Cadets in New York and woe to anyone who stood in their paths.

And one of our All-Area gridders, Richard Coppola, may soon help in the renaissance of West Point football. He was informed, by letter recently, that the United States Military Academy has accepted him for "admission contingent upon continuation of your excellent record and your medical qualifications at the time of entrance."

"We're proud of him," said Mrs. Coppola, Richard's mother. "And, we wanted to share this bit of good news with all of his friends."

Rick quarterbacked Livonia Churchill to the Western Six Conference football championship and into the Class A playoffs and was the triggerman for Coach Ken Kaestner's perfect 9-0 season. He was awarded, among other things, the MVP Trophy at Churchill and broke all kinds of records.

Though he played in the shadows of Plymouth Salem's outstanding signal caller, Rich Hewlett, and therefore didn't get what some feel his rightful recognition from the media, Coppola has to be considered one of the finest quarterbacks to come out of the area.

To disprove the hypothesis that "all jocks pull iron and are deficient in brain matter," Coppola had maintained a 3.8 (out of a possible 4.0) grade point average and is among the top 10 percent of his graduating class.

That should dispel any theory that young athletes can't excel - or don't have the time to - excel in classrooms.

Romulus' Al Wilkerson wants young cagers to "have Mercy in their hearts."

No, he's not worried about anyone running up the score, but the personable Wilkerson, who has built an outstanding track program at Romulus High, was recently drafted as Mercy College's assistant basketball coach.

And, obviously, he would like to woo some of the young talent in the area to Mercy where he and head coach Tom Bogner are rebuilding the cage program.

"We have made some adjustments," Wilkerson said, "and it has helped us win 10 of our 26 games. This area has a lot of basketball talent and we'd like to get some of the local players in our lineup."

There is presently one Westlander, 6-6 forward Jeff Holland, playing for Mercy.

Though the college can't offer much in the way of athletic scholarships, it is noted for its health, nursing, business and science programs.

Wilkerson also pointed out that Romulus has two new track coaches - Ray Lohner and Tom Karr - who will help in building a girls' track program. Karr is an alumni of Aquinas College in Grand Rapids and prepped at Lake Odessa and both coaches worked together at Traverse High School.

"With these two coaches joining our program, I feel we will have one of the best all-around track programs in the area," Wilkerson boasts.

Churchill wins Salem volleyball tourney

A superb team effort by Livonia Churchill earned the Chargers a hard-fought victory over Plymouth Canton at the annual Salem Invitational Volleyball Girls Championship held over the weekend.

Some 24 teams took part in the competitions, hosted by the Plymouth high school.

Wayne Memorial finished third after beating Livonia Bentley in the consolation finals 15-3 and 15-12. Coach Doris Busuito's Zebras also defeated Holy Rosary, Salem, Clarenceville, Ypsilanti and North Farmington.

Churchill destroyed Wayne's chances of reaching the finals by winning a three-setter. After Wayne took a close 15-13 opening set, Churchill recovered and wiped out the Zebras 15-0 and 15-12.

Juniors Sandy Braun, also captain of the Wayne team, and Sharon Fontaine, were named to the all-tournament teams. Wayne also had in its lineup Debbie Mazurek, Tina Russell, Beth Tracy and Patty Rogowski.

Wayne is 8-0 in the Great Lakes 8 and defending conference champ.

Glenn solidifies hold on 1st

Champs squeeze past Franklin

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

If there is a "sure bet" in these parts when it comes to winning a league basketball title, take Westland John Glenn.

The defending champ took one giant step toward retaining the coveted Northwest Suburban Conference championship by knocking off Livonia Franklin 73-64 to go up by two games over its closest challenger.

Though anything can happen, the now heavily-favored Westland quintet is the best bet to win it all. Coach Gordie Davis' Rockets have a 6-0 record, and Franklin, seated in second, is 4-2.

Glenn would have to lose at least two of its remaining four league games to place its crown in jeopardy. Though possible, it doesn't seem likely, especially since winless Redford Union is due in town Friday night.

"We missed our chance," said Franklin's Jim McIntyre. "We're going to need help but, with them up by two games, it's going to be tough to catch them now."

Coach Davis praised his team's "fantastic team effort in winning this one."

"We were without Ralph McKenzie and Jennings (Brad) started for us," Davis said. "He did an excellent job on Baker (Chris Baker, Franklin's 6-4 center) and also contributed 16 points."

The game was a toss-up right to the end. Franklin came out shooting as Baker drilled in nine of his 18 and Jim Wilson tossed in seven of his 11 to stake the hosts to a 22-18 first period lead.

Jennings then brought the champs back with eight key points and Glenn took a slim 36-34 lead at halftime. Franklin mobilized its forces again and with Baker collecting seven and Jeff Reich chipping in four took the lead again at the end of three periods, 52-50.

Foul play done Franklin in the last eight minutes of the duel.

Glenn sank nine of 10 clutch free throws in the closing minutes to outscore the Patriots 23-12 in the final eight minutes for their sixth consecutive triumph in the league and post their 11th win in 15 starts.

"It was a two-pointer all the way until the last couple of minutes," McIntyre said, "and they shot incredibly well at the foul line." The Franklin coach added, "that, though we're disappointed at the end results, we're not disappointed at the way our kids played."

Glenn's Tony Colucci played one of his finest games of the season. He

Backdoor slammed shut

Hugging the baseline hoping to get a "backdoor" shot is an excellent maneuver if the opposition cooperates. But Romulus' David Casey (24) wasn't buying what Detroit Pershing's Pearce Berry (14) was selling Friday night. Berry found his plans foiled and the Doughboys' plan for victory also went up in smoke as the Eagles stunned their Detroit visitors 85-71. Pershing will get another crack at Romulus as Coach Rod Hanna takes his quintet to his alma mater in Detroit Friday afternoon.

Mott gives Canton a scare

After six straight wins, one would think the rest of the league would have a little more respect for Canton cagers.

But, with each passing week, it's getting tougher and tougher for the title-famished Chiefs. Ask Coach Craig Bell whose club fought off upset-minded Waterford Mott 74-69 to win in overtime.

That victory came in the wake of a hotly-contested 66-64 double overtime win against Redford Union last Tuesday.

"They're all gunning for us now," said Bell whose Chiefs have a 11-3 won-lost record and are one victory shy of setting an all-time school record for most wins.

"We have to realize that they will come out after us after we were undefeated in the first round," the Canton coach added.

Bell confessed that Mott "played an exceptionally aggressive game against us and we're going to get more of that kind in the future."

Tom Schaefer's 18-foot jumper with 11 seconds remaining in regulation found the mark and tied the game at 64-all. Though Scott Adler had the last shot for the Chiefs, his 15-foot jumper missed.

The issue was settled in overtime when Canton outscored their rivals 10-5 behind a couple of uncontested Butch King layups and Adler and Mike Leary's jumpers.

Canton took a 20-16 lead after one period as Rusty Mandle provided the leadership and the points - he got 12 of his 13 points in the first half. But, the Chiefs fell behind 35-34 at intermission and recovered in enough time to go ahead 51-46 for three periods. Mott's 19-13 scoring edge in the last eight minutes equalized everything, forcing the issue into overtime.

King, a legitimate all-state candidate, scored on 12 field goals and two of two free throws for a game high 26. Teammate Mike Leary accounted for 16 and Mandle finished with 13 for the night.

Canton's last period stall against Thurston backfired and Thurston managed to make up the deficit to tie the score at 54-all. Each team scored one basket in the first overtime, but the Chiefs had the edge 8-6 in the next three minutes.

It looked as if Canton would break it open in the third period when they outscored Eagles 25-10, but Bell said he decided "to stall things out in the fourth period and we made some key turnovers which they capitalized upon."

King's 19 points led Canton and Mike Gollnick canned 15. Thurston's Jim Dowdy kept the Eagles alive, scoring 20 points, 12 of those in the first period.

The four young gymnasts are members of the Rebel Club out of Garden City.

Wayne hopes to treat parents to victory over Lincoln Park

It's 'Parents' Night'

Coach Steve Schwartz and the Zebras couldn't find a more opportune time to snap out of their basketball doldrums than Friday night.

That's the night they have set aside to honor the parents of all of the players and none other than Lincoln Park will be in town.

"We beat them the first time around," Schwartz said, "but they are potentially a fine team. We're going to have to be ready."

Wayne missed an opportunity of knocking off Taylor Center last week, losing a close 44-42 heart-breaking decision to the Rams.

"It was one of those games that neither team could establish control," Schwartz said. "Both however played excellent defense and the key, I feel, was our inability to defense Schafranek in the last period."

Jim Schafranek led a Ram coup nearly singlehandedly as he tossed in nine of his team's 13 points in the last period.

The biggest lead either team had during the Great Lakes 8 Conference rematch was four points and Kyle Poteau's layup with 10 seconds remaining pulled Wayne within one point.

But when Wayne lunged for a pass and missed, it gave Schafranek the ball and a clear path to the Zebra basket. Schafranek sure basket was disrupted by a Wayne player who hung on to the Taylor sharpshooter. The play caused one of the Ram subs to get off the bench and protest - he was slapped with a technical.

Schafranek sank one of his two charities, but Wayne missed and got the ball out of bounds. The Zebras ran the clock down to the one-second marker, then missed an uncontested shot.

Though they hit 18 of 42 percent from the field for 43 percent, Wayne failed to get the key basket. Taylor made 20 of 36 for 56 percent from the floor. Both collected four points from the free throw line.

Kelvin Lee's 16 points represented the bulk of the Wayne scoring. The 6-0 senior forward made eight of 12 from the floor. And Mark Zeronia, switched to guard Chuck Blevins after the 6-2 Taylor forward canned 10 points, limited him to two the rest of the evening.

The loss left Wayne with a 3-6 conference record and boosted Taylor to a 5-4 mark.

Fordson is the team to catch in the league. The tractors brought an 8-1 record to town Tuesday night.

Stoklosa's finest hour helps nip Grosse Ile, 68-67, in OT

Not once, but twice did Rich Stoklosa save the night and the game for New Boston Huron.

Stoklosa sank a 20 foot jumper with six seconds left to tie the game at the end of regulation time, then hit a 16 footer to save the Chiefs in the first overtime.

And when all of the shooting was over, Stoklosa and the Chiefs stashed away a 68-67 double overtime victory over Grosse Ile.

"I feel it was his (Stoklosa's) finest game," said Huron coach Gene Smith. "I can't think of a better single performance by any player which determined the outcome of one of our games."

Stoklosa sank four straight after the initial half and went on to can nine of 11 from the floor, finishing with a game high 25 points.

However, it was Kermit Burke's two free throws with 25 seconds left in the second extra period that clinched the game for the Chiefs.

"I was really pleased at the way we refused to quit despite the fact we were down by as much as 14 points in the first half," relayed Smith.

Grosse Ile established an excellent game against the Huron defenses, which switched from zone to full court in the initial periods. The Islanders outscored their conference rivals 22-12 and 17-13 to take a 39-26 lead into the lockerroom.

But Smith decided to switch to a man-to-man and informed his players "that since Grosse Ile is sagging on and using two men to handle center, Randy Pichan, "someone has to be in the open, so let's find him."

The bit of advice and change of strategy apparently worked as the Chiefs returned to take command 16-8 in the third period and 15-9 in the fourth. Each scored a basket in the first overtime, but Huron's 10-9 scoring edge in the second three-minute period provided it with their fifth conference win in eight starts.

Burke and Pichan supported Stoklosa with 17 and 16 points respectively, while the Islanders also had a balanced attack which featured four players - Mike Velis (17), John Hoffman (16), Dan DeWar (16) and Tom Hulderman (10) in two figures.

Huron has a slim chance of catching once-defeated Tecumseh (7-1) but must get past a 6-2 Monroe Catholic Central (Tuesday night) and Carlson on Friday to stay in the chase.

"MCC has the edge in height," said Coach Smith, "but we're capable of beating them."

Eagles stun Beecher, Pershing

Romulus cagers get their revenge

Though it may be a cliché, it is apropos to point out that Romulus got its margin of revenge by beating visiting Flint Beecher Friday night on the hardwood.

Beecher, which slapped the first loss on Coach Rod Hanna's 1978-79 cage record, winning a last-second thriller by two points, succumbed to the hot-shooting Eagles 77-66.

"It was an important test for more than obvious reasons," explained Hanna. "This was our first game without Vince Bean and I just didn't know what to expect out there."

Bean, a 6-2 junior forward, left Romulus when his family moved to Southfield a week ago.

Romulus quickly established the tempo of the game against the perennial Class B power as the Eagles jumped out in front 18-8 and built up a 39-24 halftime lead and increased the margin by 20 midway in the third period, giving Hanna ample opportunity to use up his bench strength.

The Lewis brothers - Darryl and Richard - tossed in 20 and 17 points respectively, while David Casey added 16 and senior guard John Kersey sank 13 for the Eagles who also looked good at the free throw line where they canned 17 of 22 offerings.

Friday night, Hanna hosted his alma mater, Detroit Pershing, and refused to play the role of the perfect host as his minions trampled Detroit 85-71.

Close the first 10 minutes - the two teams were tied at 18-all, Romulus outscored their visitors 24-11 in the second period when Darryl Lewis collected 11 of his 20 points and Dave Hollifield tossed in five to stake the Eagles to a 42-29 halftime advantage.

It was all a matter of time after the half as Romulus won a 22-17 third period shooting duel but lost a 25-21 shoot-out in the final eight minutes.

"We're improving and I'm crossing my fingers and hoping the momentum doesn't shift," Hanna said.

Salem rocks Parkers

Like Mother Nature, it also isn't nice to play around with Plymouth Salem.

After back-to-back setbacks - one which cost the Rocks sole possession of first place, Coach Fred Thomann's proteges erupted and buried Allen Park 82-60 to hang on to their share of the Suburban 8 Conference basketball lead.

Both Salem and Livonia Bentley will go into their Friday night games sporting 8-1 league records.

Thomann and the Rocks face an erratic but able Dearborn quintet in the friendly confines of the Rock gym.

Thomann was pleased with the over-all performance last Friday of his team which exploded to a 24-14 lead in the first period, held a 36-29 margin at halftime before racing to 22-15 and 24-16 periods in the second half.

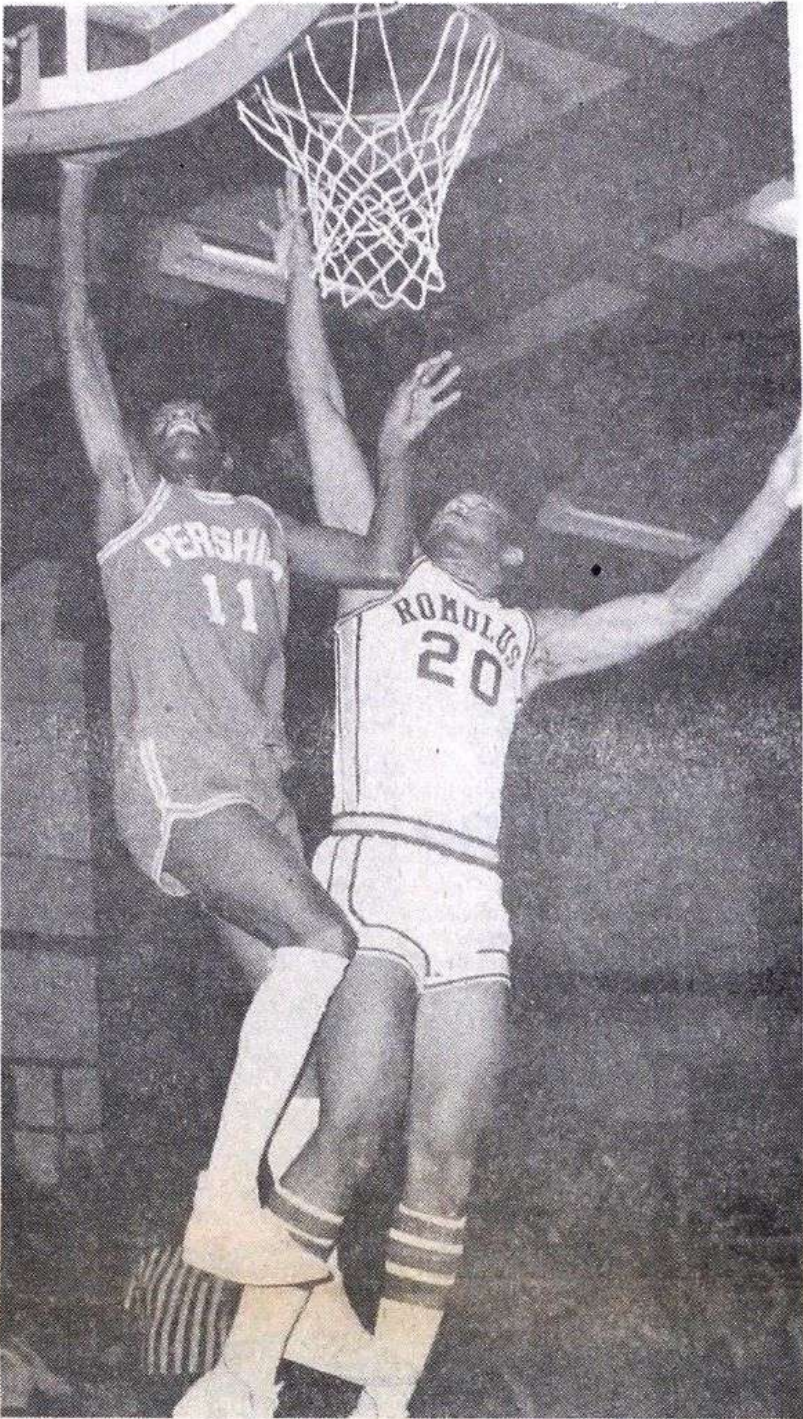

"With the exception of the second period, we played consistent ball," Thomann said, "and we had balance scoring which is always good."

Earlier in the week the Rocks shook off a pesky Westland John Glenn 61-59 to snap their 2-game losing streak. Salem was beaten by Edsel Ford, a league rival, and also startled by Fordson which cost them a 11-game winning streak.

Glenn blew a five-point lead late in the game when the Rockets gambled on a long jumper and the rocks came back and scored, then capitalized on a turnover which resulted in a personal foul.

Howard Monk's 20 points and 11 points from senior playmaker Rich Hewlett and Kevin Kelliher's 10 points helped bring about Glenn's demise.

If you're wondering about that rematch with Livonia Bentley will take place, circle Feb. 23. Salem will have the homecourt advantage for that crucial showdown.

Dogfight

The Pershing Doughboys landed in Romulus Friday night and met some stiff resistance as evidenced in the "dogfight" between Pershing's John Green (11) and Romulus' John Kersey (20). Green got an ample share of points, 19 to be exact, but the Detroiters also dropped an 85-71 decision to Coach Rod Hanna's Eagles.

Glenn starts swim loop with victory

It was a good way for a rookie coach to start the league.

Coach Jim Lawrence introduction to the Northwest Suburban Conference swimming circles was a winning one as Glenn rallied for an 89-83 triumph over Garden City East.

"I was really impressed at the way our sophomores came through under pressure," Coach Lawrence said. "When you have 11 sophs on the team, you're going to have to count on them to win."

Of those five Glenn firsts, Stan Kane garnered two of them as he turned in a 1:58.3 for the 200 yard freestyle, then touched in with the winning time of 54.9 for the 100 yard freestyle.

Glenn swarmed all over Garden City West in an earlier and out of league contest, 109-61. The Westlanders earned 10 of the 11 first places with Alan Raven, who won the 200 and 500 freestyle events, joining Kane, winner of the 50 and 100 freestyle events, as a double winner.

200th win

Spartans rip Schafer to give coach a 'memorable victory'

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Coach Dick McNally notched his 200th career cage victory Friday night as his Cherry Hill Spartans overcame foul trouble to rip Southgate Schafer, 80-60, to remain tied with Garden City West for the lead in the Tri-River League with 7-2 records.

The milestone high school victory, accomplished with three different schools, was his 107th at Cherry Hill against only 50 losses in his eight years at the Spartan's helm. It also ran his local record to 70-32 in the Tri-River League during that span and he's compiled a 58-19 mark in the conference over the past six years.

"It gives me a great sense of accomplishment but I have had great people to work with here at Cherry Hill and at the other schools," said McNally.

His previous experience in varsity coaching roles came at Michigan Center High School, near Jackson, and Frankfort High School near Traverse City.

McNally especially praised Gary Griswald, his assistant coach, who coached the 9th grade team five years. He said much of the success was due to Griswald's dedication and also to the fine work of Junior Varsity coach, Dave Bogataj, who has handled the 10th grade squad eight years.

"These are outstanding, dedicated coaches and give them the credit they deserve," McNally stressed. Bogataj's JV squad currently is one of his strongest, leading the Tri-River League with an 8-1 record and 12-2 overall. His squad also won the recent Christmas Tourney in competition with Westland John Glenn, Belleville and Wayne Memorial.

In Friday night's memorable win, Cherry Hill overcame a host of fouls called by the whistle-happy officials that sent the visiting Vikings to the free throw line 40 times. They capitalized 30 times, while the Spartans hit on 8 of 13 free throws.

Virtually all of Schafer's first half points came from the charity stripe as they sank only six field goals and hit on 18 of 21 freebies. The accuracy from the circle gave the Vikings a short-lived 19-14 lead before Cherry Hill came roaring back to assume a 37-30 halftime edge.

The Spartans virtually ran the visitors out of the gym in racing to a 29-12 third quarter edge and flooded the floor with subs as Schafer gained an 18-14 fourth period margin for the final 80-60 score.

Floyd Simmons topped Cherry Hill with 32 points, popping in 10 in the first quarter, nine in the second and 13 in the third period before sitting out the last stanza. Pierre Hudson added 12 and sophomore guard Greg Thompson chipped in 10 besides playing a good defensive game and directing the attack.

Cherry Hill, which has averaged 86 points in its last three games was idle Tuesday night but faces an ever-dangerous Melvindale squad on the latter's court tomorrow night. However, the Cardinals were trounced 62-52 Friday by Garden City West, the Tri-River co-leader, in a game that the Tigers led by nearly 20 points in the last quarter.

Melvindale, which lost a valuable 6-3 starter two weeks ago, dropped a game behind with a 6-3 league mark.

Cherry Hill has two other stern tests, Taylor Kennedy at home on Feb. 20 and at G.C. West on Feb. 23. The latter clash will probably determine the Tri-River League championship which Cherry Hill has won the past two seasons.

Rerun: Inkster whips Robichaud

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Sports Writer

Inkster's basketball team will really know the meaning of the adage "There's no place like home" after their schedule gives them five rugged road games to wind up the regular season.

Coach George Thompson's cagers disposed of Dearborn Heights Robichaud, 81-71, in one of their typically hard-fought battles Friday night at home to run the Vikings' Suburban Athletic Conference mark to 3-1 and overall record to 6-4.

Highland Park's 65-59 victory over River Rouge Friday makes a real dog-fight for the league lead with the Panthers on top with a 4-1 slate while Inkster and the Parkers are a half-game behind with identical 3-1 marks. On March 3 Inkster and Highland Park will play the last half of their earlier suspended game that was called when an Inkster fan allegedly struck some Highland Park players while the cagers were seated on the player's bench.

But if Inkster is to have a chance for a league title, or even a .500 season record, they will have to do it in a "meat-grinder" of a schedule against an array of powerful teams — and they're all away games.

Picture this. Coach Thompson's battling cagers, who are really starting to jell, faced East Catholic, the number one team in Class D in the state last Tuesday night and travel to challenge the talented Flyers of Willow Run Friday night. Both are non-league clashes.

As if that wasn't enough, Inkster then returns to SAC action and runs into Ecorse, River Rouge and Highland Park, all in the opponents' gyms, before concluding the last half of the suspended game with Highland Park.

"I don't know who drew up the schedule that way, but it sure is a challenge," Thompson chuckled after Friday night's satisfying win against Coach Francis McCauley's Bulldogs.

"It was a typical Inkster-Robichaud basketball game and both teams gave everything they had and that makes for exciting basketball," Thompson pointed out.

Inkster, trying to throttle Robichaud's attack, tried a man-to-man defense in the first quarter but the visitors raced to a 19-15 lead after eight minutes of action.

Thompson, employing the experience of many years of coaching, switched to a zone defense and his Vikings really got things rolling. They outscored their guests 47-32 in the middle two periods (24-16 and 23-16) to lead 62-51 after three quarters.

The Bulldogs managed a 20-19 last period edge, but they got no closer than six points in the final eight minutes. The loss dropped Robichaud's record to 0-5 in the rugged SAC league and 3-11 overall. The Bulldogs were paced by Terry Ross' 21 points and 12 by Leslie Reynolds.

Inkster had a powerful blend of balanced scoring as Jim Lewis topped the host Vikings with 21 points, 13 of them coming in the vital second half. He was aided by Alvin Dukes (19 points) and Darryl Willis (16 points) as that pair teamed for 16 points in the third quarter.

Eric Crouch, playing a good steady brand of ball, drilled in eight of his 18 points in the last quarter to dispel any chance of a comeback by the Bulldogs.

Thompson said the game was a tight duel in the second period until consecutive slam dunks by Lewis, Crouch and Willis got Inkster rolling. "That really lit the fire and got the crowd excited," Thompson said in explaining what he thought was the turning point in the typically hard fought struggle between these traditional rivals.

Easy-to-do Spumoni sculpture

Easy Spumoni Mold may be just the dessert to top off a multi-course dinner. This delicately flavored frozen dessert calls for ice cream, a bit of instant coffee, cold milk, an envelope of Dream Whip whipped topping mix, quartered maraschino cherries and toasted slivered almonds.

There are three distinct advantages to this dessert. First, either a loaf pan or a 2-quart mixing bowl may be used. Second, after lining the pan with softened ice cream which is returned to the freezer, all other ingredients are combined in just one bowl — making cleanup much easier. Finally, Easy Spumoni Mold is a "make-ahead" dessert.

Easy Spumoni Mold

- 1 quart chocolate or vanilla ice cream, softened
- 1/2 cup cold milk
- 1 tablespoon instant quality or decaffeinated coffee
- 1 envelope whipped topping mix
- 1/2 cup maraschino cherries, quartered
- 1/4 cup toasted slivered blanched almonds

Press ice cream firmly on bottom and sides of aluminum foil-lined 8x4-inch loaf pan or 2-quart mixing bowl, leaving a hollow in the center. Freeze until firm.

Meanwhile, combine milk, instant coffee and whipped topping mix in deep, narrow-bottom mixer bowl. Beat at high speed of electric mixer until topping peaks. Continue beating until light and fluffy, about 2 minutes longer. Fold in cherries and almonds. Spoon into ice cream shell. Cover with aluminum foil and freeze at least 4 hours or overnight. Unmold, removing foil. Garnish with prepared whipped topping and additional cherries and almonds, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

On Jan. 28, we had a second chance to say Happy New Year, when, in the Chinese tradition, the Year of the Ram began.

The date of the Chinese New Year changes every year, but always falls between Jan. 21 and Feb. 19. It arrives with the second new moon after the winter solstice, the shortest day of the year.

If you'd like to welcome the year of the Ram with your own celebration, why not treat your family to Chinese steak with pea pods and mushrooms. The recipe, which follows, makes six servings.

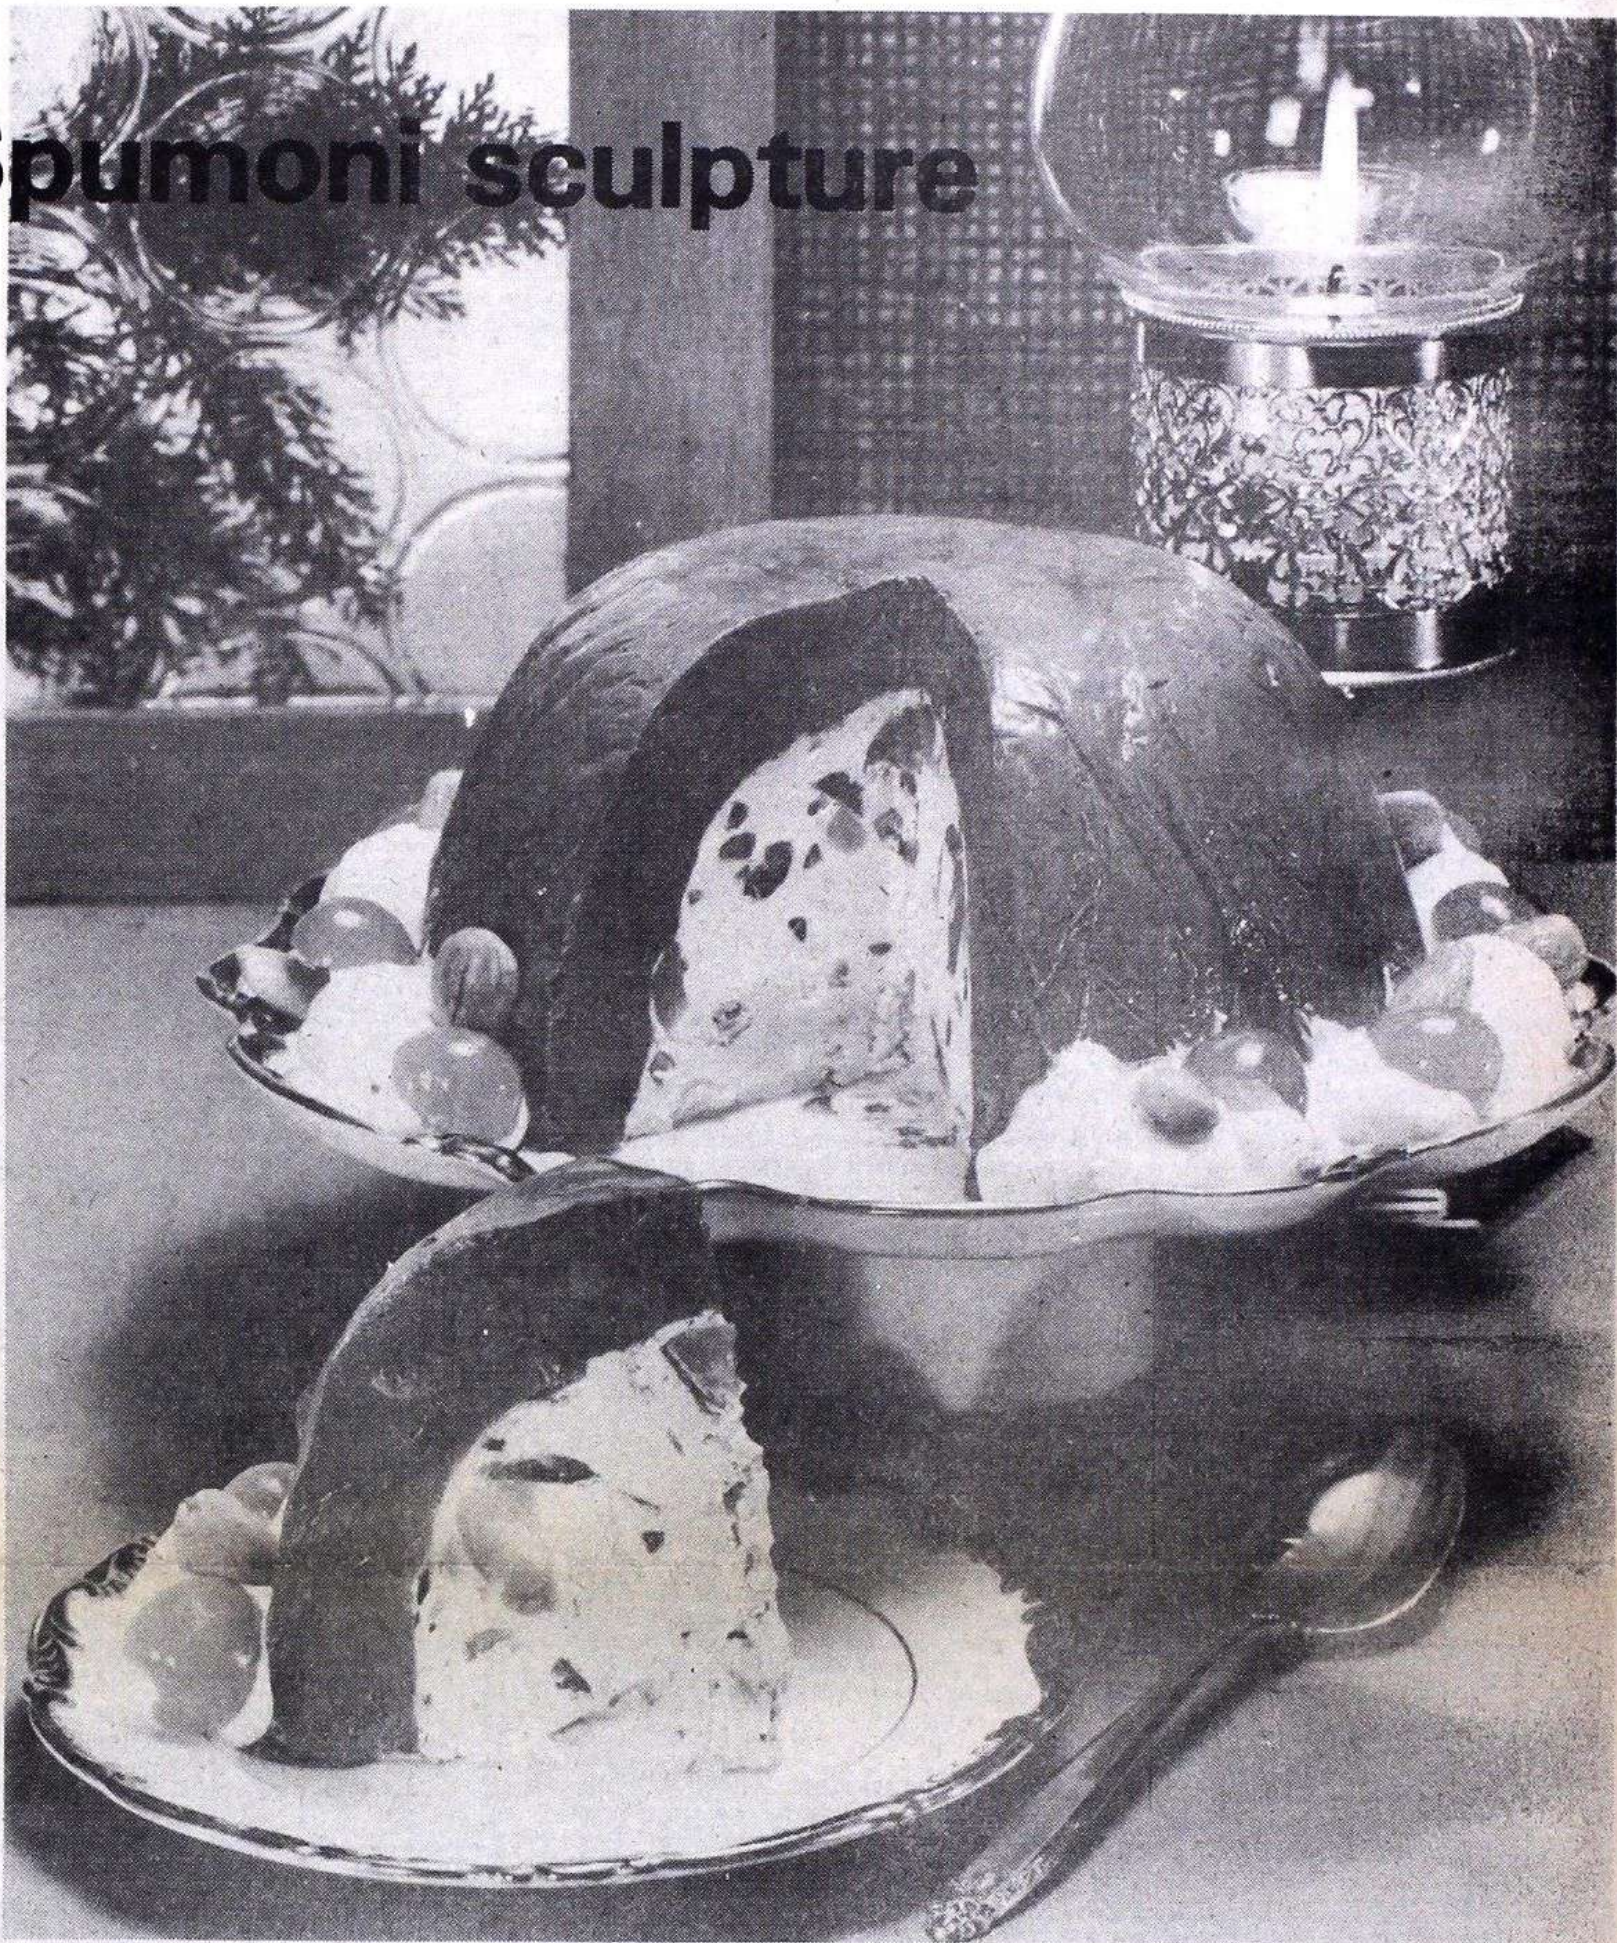

Chinese Steak with Pea Pods

- 1 1/2 lbs. boneless sirloin steak, cut into 1 1/2-inch cubes
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon dry sherry
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground pepper
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 lb. sliced fresh mushrooms
- 1/2 cup drained bamboo shoots
- 16 oz. package frozen Chinese pea pods, thawed
- 2 green onions, cut into 2-inch lengths
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons sherry

Pound steak cubes lightly with blunt edge of kitchen knife. Combine soy sauce, 1 tablespoon sherry, 1 teaspoon sugar, pepper and cornstarch. Pour over meat and mix well; set aside. Combine mushrooms, bamboo shoots, pea pods and green onions; set aside.

Heat oil in wok or large skillet. Add steak cubes, cooking and stirring over high heat about two minutes. Remove steak and drain. Pour off all but 3 tablespoons oil.

Heat oil remaining in pan. Add vegetables and cook one minute, stirring constantly. Add remaining teaspoon sugar and cook 1 minute more, stirring. Add 1 1/2 tablespoons sherry and the steak and continue to cook and stir two minutes more. Serve immediately.

Cold 'n creamy

Autumn wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Henry of Lauren Court, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane Elizabeth Henry, to Conrad S. Ziemba, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ziemba of Farmington Hills.

The bride-elect, a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School, is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Her fiancé graduated from Cass Technical High School in 1973 and currently is employed as a technician at AMC.

A fall wedding is planned.

MISS HENRY

Now living in Ann Arbor

John Eicks cruise Caribbean on week-long honeymoon

A week-long Caribbean cruise followed the recent ceremony which joined Diane Craven of Belleville and John Eick of Ann Arbor in holy matrimony.

St. Mary's Student Chapel in Ann Arbor was the setting for the Dec. 23 rite conducted jointly by The Rev. David Lee of Belleville and The Rev. Charles Irvin of Ann Arbor.

Some 75 close friends and relatives witnessed the double ring vows repeated before the altar graced with white poinsettias.

The daughter of George and Doreen Craven of 11514 Fisher Rd., Belleville, the bride was escorted up the aisle by both her parents.

For her wedding day Diane chose to wear a toe-touching gown of candlelight satin, the same dress her mother had worn at her own wedding in 1949. Styled with long tapered sleeves and a scoop neckline, the bodice was enlaced with seed pearl and crystal bead embroidery.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a little crescent headpiece and her cascade bouquet was comprised of white roses, carnations, baby's breath and Boston fern.

Kay Parker of Pentwater, a friend of the bride's from the University of Michigan, served as maid of honor in a gown of copen blue with ivory trim. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with blue accents and tucked matching blue flowers in her hair.

Identical ensembles were worn by the two bridesmaids: Patti Craven, the bride's sister from Belleville, and Carol Eick, the bridegroom's sister from Hancock.

Eight-year-old Becky Eick donned a little copen blue frock topped by a white organza pinafore for her role as flowergirl. The basket she held was filled with white carnations. Andy Eick, 10, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

The bridegroom, the son of Harry and Sally Eick of 6098 Skyline Dr., East Lansing, asked his friend Mike McMahon of Ann Arbor, to be best man. Others on the esquire side were David Craven of Belleville; Steve and Tim Eick of Lansing; and Jim Craven of Belleville, all brothers of the bride.

At the reception, which followed at Win Schuler's Marriott Inn of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Craven received some 142 guests in an ice blue floor-length ensemble to which she pinned her corsage of white roses trimmed in silver. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Eick, appeared in a formal gown of grey chiffon and also was honored with a corsage of white roses.

On their return the newlyweds took up residence at the bridegroom's apartment at 1747 Broadview, Ann Arbor.

A 1974 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Eick is also a 1978 alumna of the University of Michigan School of Music. At the present time she is employed by Van Buren Public Schools as a vocal elementary music instructor.

Her husband graduated in 1974 from East Lansing High School and in 1978 from the University of Michigan School of Music. He currently is working toward his master's degree in trumpet performance at U-M.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held at Weber's Inn of Ann Arbor.

BY LEE SMITH

Suburban Living Editor

Although I'm not a devout fan of what many people refer to as the "boob tube", I DO feel praise should be given where praise is due. And last week's Book One of "Back Stairs at the White House" certainly deserves the accolade. The casting, acting, storyline, sets and entire production were all of an ingredient sorely missing in today's television shows — quality.

Subsequent episodes (of which we were given brief glimpses) promise to be even more interesting. It inspires a person to snatch up a history book and freshen up on things like the Teapot Dome Scandal, etc.

"Backstairs" is just my own taste, of course, since I particularly enjoy anything with a political bent and especially anything to do with the White House or Capitol. (My tastes also run to Mary Tyler Moore re-runs, Channel 56 specials, Hollywood Squares, Sixty Minutes and the Pro Golf Tour these current weekends.)

BUT — why, oh why, do programmers constantly pit one good production against another? That particular Monday not only featured "BS at the WH" (that sounds better, doesn't it?) but Katherine Hepburn's made-for-TV movie, M-A-S-H and even the final football game of the season (if there ever IS such a thing.)

The following nights will be right back to mediocre shows, one after another, with nothing to break the monotony.

BUT — that's when a good book (or two or three) can turn an otherwise routine evening into a real adventure. And I've a real thriller plus an autobiography to inspire you to visit your bookstore or library this week.

If you lean toward novels with a kidnapping theme, you'll find yourself calling the Romulus Library for "A Child is Missing."

In Charlotte Paul's 259 page suspense story, the son of a famous hero races against time to rescue his own son from a kidnapper who is bent on revenge. But he (the kidnapper) soon discovers he's not alone in the vengeance field when an unsavory figure from his past unexpectedly enters into his plans. And that's all I'm gonna tell you. Read it; I think you'll like it.

"Nurse", the true story of RN Mary Benjamin (as written by Peggy Anderson), should appeal to the lay person as well as the professional in the medical field. Recommended by Mary Ann Emerson, an RN herself, at Beyer Hospital, the book brings to light the thoughts, feelings and experiences of the narrator, a head nurse in a large general hospital.

— She gives a nurse's view of doctors, supervisors, co-workers, patients, their families and her own home life as well.

"Nurse" helps the visitor to the hospital understand those dying from cancer, those recuperating from amputations, others struggling through surgery. She also describes a nurse's reaction to both the cooperative and the demanding patient plus the frustrations and sorrows of the families who watch and wait.

"Startling in its honesty — revealing in its intimacy," (as the book jacket says) it makes you think over the cover statement, "Doctors don't keep you alive — nurses do."

A letter from a Romulus reader keeps the pilot light going on our little "gripes" session. Our writer, who asks that she not be identified, says "I have been reading and enjoying your column and getting a kick out of the pet peeves you've mentioned. I have a few to add..."

How about people who bring their kids to adult parties... people who can talk about nothing but their aches and pains... parents who let their kids tell THEM what to do... people who let their dogs sniff at you and dribble all over you... people who never wipe their feet when they come in your house... people who put their cigarettes out in coffee cups... people always crying the "broke" song... people who are NEVER on time.

"I could go on," she continues, "but that's (sic) just a few of MY peeves. I want you to know that that piece you wrote about Christmas tree ornaments really touched home since I also have things made by my mother and it IS rather sad to have her gone at that time of year. I also have a recipe you can use if you like. It's a favorite of my kids and a real easy to do recipe which I make for after school snacks."

GRAHAM-CARAMEL NUT SQUARES

Stir and cook over medium heat until completely dissolved. Pour over 24 graham crackers laid out flat on a cookie sheet. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool and serve with milk.

"Potpourri" thanks you kindly, m'am.

YOU SAY YOU LIKE ICE CREAM? — Try this one on for size. The most monstrous ice cream sundae ever concocted is one of 2,056 pounds by Young's Dairy Queen in Batesville, Ind. in 1974. It was topped with 17 gallons of chocolate sauce.

OR HOW ABOUT PIZZA? — The largest ever baked measured 21 feet in diameter, 346 square feet in area and 1,000 pounds in weight at Pizza Pete in Chicago in 1970.

EVER WONDER CORNER — Every wonder where the saying "He's full of beans" originated? It was in the early 1800's. British employers wishing to encourage their laborers gave them an annual — and very rowdy — dinner which came to be known far and wide as the "bean feast." The moniker came from the menu which traditionally featured beans because they were rumored to provide energy! Hopefully, after such a repast the workers would be energetic and in high spirits; or "full of beans" as the saying went. For some unknown reason, it was the tailors who let out the seams on the saying, widening "bean-feast" to describe any hugely enjoyable meal. So well-known was the phrase that by the turn of the century the highest accolade you could bestow upon a hostess was to laud her dinner as a real "beano."

BHS Band members selling citrus fruit

Members of the Belleville High School Band are once again sponsoring a Citrus Fruit Sale, the profits of which will be used for equipment and the betterment of the musical organization.

Valencia oranges and Florida pink grapefruit are the products for the young salesmen who are able to offer an unconditional guarantee with their program. Any fruit that is not fresh-picked, sweet and juicy will be replaced.

"Fresh-picked", after your order, the fruit will then be rushed direct to buyers via modern, refrigerated trucks. All citrus is subject to inspection by the Department of Agriculture but every box you receive is inspected twice more — once in Florida and again in Belleville.

Of U.S. Number One grade quality, the fruit is packed in fourth-fifth bushel cardboard cartons that will bear 250 pounds pressure. The fruit rests in the bottom half of the carton and the top telescopes over it. Forty pounds of truly fresh fruit can easily be used individually or shared with a neighbor or friend.

Fresh Picked Fruit Services of Orlando, Fla. packs 32 to 48 grapefruit and 64 to 100 oranges in a carton.

Now is the best time to order fresh citrus from your local band member. Oranges are priced at $9 per box, grapefruit at the same rate and half of each, also $9.

Orders may be picked up at the Belleville High School Band Room on Saturday, Feb. 24, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

NOTES

by Doug Brown

Arthur Rubinstein has smashed musical longevity records all over the world. He is over 90 years old. For 83 of these years, more than most people live, he has been playing the piano in public performances. How did Arthur Rubinstein make a big name as a virtuoso pianist? Partially, it is his technique, and then of course, there is sensitive musicianship, a platform personality that comes over the footlights, and a fantastic degree of showmanship. Next time Arthur Rubinstein is on TV, don't miss it!

Wherever your musical fancy leads you a piano or organ from DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 will be with you all the way. Marthajane Hritz completed the requirements for a bachelor of arts degree in music education, with minors in German and English, at Hillsdale College last December. The degree will be conferred on May 19 at the College's traditional graduation ceremony.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osborn Hanson of Cement City, formerly of Belleville, Mrs. Hritz has been active in the music department at Hillsdale, singing in the choir and the chorale and accompanying and giving recitals on the piano.

She completed her directed teaching experience in the Addison Community Schools under the supervision of teachers Hinkle and Robertson, teaching vocal music for which she will receive Michigan elementary and secondary teaching certificates.

Girl Scouts set goal for cookie sale

Huron Valley Girl Scouts have set their goal at a half-million boxes of cookies and crackers sold during this year's sale which begins Feb. 23 and ends March 19.

Troops use their profits for camping equipment, service projects and special activities.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council uses the sale profits to supplement income from United Ways, camping fees and other contributions. These funds help to maintain the Council's three camps as well as to provide financial aid for individual girls and services to adult leaders.

While the price of just about everything skyrockets, the cost per package remains at $1.25, a price Girl Scouts have maintained for three years.

In addition to the traditional favorites — Thin Mints, Peanut Butter Patties, Shortbreads, PB's (Peanut Butter Sandwich), and Vanilla Sandwich Cremes — Girl Scouts will be offering a new cookie, the Granola Cookie, and a Wheat Sesame Cracker.

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, a United Way agency, serves approximately 12,000 girls in Washtenaw, Western Wayne, Northern Monroe and Livingston counties.

Junior Study Club holds workshop, plans card party

The January meeting of the Belleville Junior Study Club was held at the South Service Drive home of Barbara Boelter with 15 members present.

As is traditional, this meeting was used to make final plans for the club's annual card party. Members made "potpourri" centerpieces which will be used as prizes at the party planned for Feb. 21 at North Junior High School. Members also made posters which will soon be displayed around town.

The group voted to hold the admission price at $1.25 per person, as it has been for the past few years, and agreed that raffle tickets will again be sold at $25 each and 5 for $1.

Each member received a supply of raffle tickets for the hope chest, which will be raffled at the card party. As in the past this traditional hope chest is chockful of handmade rugs, afghans, smocks, crafts and other goodies. The hope chest items will be on display at Roberts Bros. Furniture Store window until the day of the card party.

Again this year, the membership voted that the proceeds will be used to sponsor projects. For the third consecutive year the Belleville Juniors will sponsor and award the Genevieve Clark Scholarship — given to a single, female parent who is interested in furthering her education. Profits from the card party have traditionally funded this scholarship.

Ribbon jello and rolled chocolate chip cookies, coffee and tea were served during the "workshop".

Blizzard care

Protecting yourself against winter

It's wintertime again and, in fact, in some parts of the country it's blizzard time again, with severe storms causing a considerable amount of discomfort.

Since blizzards keep on coming, it's time to remember how to survive their snowy, icy attacks. So adding to the general advice, here are some valuable tips to men, women and children for skin care in blizzards.

IN STRONG ICY winds, wrap your muffler around your cheeks. Besides chapping skin, severe cold can injure the capillaries (the tiny blood vessels nearest the skin surface), causing them to swell up and break, and possibly showing up later as little red thread-marks on skin.

WHEN YOU come in from the cold, don't immediately lean over a stove or fireplace, or wash your face in hot water. Sudden changes in exposure from cold or hot are also bad for skin because capillaries need a little time to adjust.

USE EXTRA lubricants on your skin in blizzards. Lubricants add a layer of protection, help skin retain its natural oils and warmth, and make it less vulnerable to wintery weather.

PROTECT YOUR lips. Use extra-creamy lipstick or a stick of colorless lip balm which can also be dabbed around the nostrils. Wherever there's moisture, skin chaps more easily.

FOR MEN, moustaches are a blizzard hazard. While facial hair offers some warmth to skin, it also collects moisture from snow which could freeze to ice and hurt. Again, wrap a muffler around your face for protection. It also helps to dab a light oil on your moustache before going out to make it more water shedding and less apt to irritate the skin beneath. The same is true for beards.

Senior Citizens keep busy pace

Members of Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1 report they are glad to see the cold and bleak weather of January behind them. And although February will still be cold, they are only one month away from the warmer weather of March.

The Club was increased by five new members in the past month: Mildred Hay, Lydia Kyak, Jesse Tryon and Paul and Loretta Vereb.

On Jan. 23 and 30 the Club held a blind auction and cookie sale, both of which were successes. On Feb. 6 a movie travelogue of Canada was the highlight of the meeting.

Chad Richard is his name

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Akans of Royal Oak are announcing the birth of their first child, a son, on Jan. 31 at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE TO FAMILIES WHO LIVED IN PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECTS OPERATED BY THE ROMULUS HOUSING COMMISSION OR LIVED IN PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECTS IN ANY OTHER CITY BETWEEN MARCH 16, 1971, - SEPTEMBER 26, 1975.

If you rented a house or apartment from the ROMULUS HOUSING COMMISSION or any other Public Housing Agency (PHA) during the period between March 16, 1971, and September 26, 1975, you may be eligible to file a claim for a refund of part of your rent during that period if:

1. The wife or husband of the head of the household was present and dependent upon the head of the household for support and/or;
2. a dependent member of your family household was employed.

If you believe your family falls within one of the categories described above, you may wish to continue reading this Notice in order to determine how and under what circumstances you may file a claim.

On July 7, 1978, the District Court of the District of Columbia entered a Stipulated Order providing that the definition of family income for purposes of computing maximum rentals for public housing, as contained in a HUD Circular, which excluded spouses from the $300 deduction for each dependent and excluded dependents from the $300 deduction for each secondary wage earner, was invalid and violated the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended. The effect of this determination is that certain families who lived in public housing during the period from March 16, 1971, to September 26, 1975, may have been charged too much rent. Therefore, the District Court ordered HUD to establish a one million dollar fund for the payment of claims which current or former tenants of public housing may submit for a refund of any overpayments.

The District Court's Stipulated Order provides that, if valid claims exceed one million dollars, HUD has the option of having the Order dissolved in which case NTO and HUD may negotiate a modified settlement or proceed with further litigation. Thus, claimants should realize that the submittal of a claim determined valid by a PHA may result in full, partial, or no payment, depending on the total amount of valid claims submitted to HUD, or the final outcome of any further litigation. Any person wishing to receive a copy of the Stipulated Order or a claim form may do so by making their request known to a local PHA.

Individuals wishing to submit a claim must fill in the claim form made a part of this Notice and must submit it to the Public Housing Agency's address indicated on the claim form, or such other appropriate Public Housing Agency if different from the address indicated, within 120 days from Dec. 6, 1978. No claims will be accepted after the end of the 120 day period, April 6, 1979.

Information provided by the claimant on the claim form must be specific as to the time period between March 16, 1971, and September 26, 1975, for which the wife or husband of the head of the household was present and was a dependent and/or a dependent in the household was employed.

Publish every week until April 4.
